Political Aspirations Denied By Eisenhower

Washington, Nov. 3. —(AP) —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flew back to America today with a fresh disclaimer of political ambitions, and amid indications he may step swinging into a Washington clash over the speed of re-armament.

"I have never had any political aspirations — period," the supreme commander of the Allied powers in Europe told reporters on his arrival at New York from Paris.

He wouldn't even say whether he was a Democrat or a Republican.

Asked whether it would be correct to say that "Come what may, you will not be a candiate for the presidency next year," Eisenhower replied:

"Of course you can't say that I will not indicate political leanings of any kind. I'm doing a job. That's my statement."

While the general thus shut off political questions, and said the progress of European defense is partly encouraging and partly discouraging, the stage was being set for the talks he will have here with eaders Monday and Tuesday.

Informed officials passed the word that Eisenhower is deeply dissatisfied with the rate of military buildup in Europe, and also wants Washington to join in creating a small, battleworthy military force there in six months or so.

his schedule would be far ahead of the long range, full strength defense pans now envisaged. To put it into effect, Eisenhower is expected to press for some changed procedures in U. S. arms production and distrubition. Some officials predicted he would bear down hard to get these changes ordered during his Washington talks.

"I have come home on the military side," he said at New York.

"I am on a job in which the United States has invested worlds and worlds of treasure, time and thought, and for me to imply any political or partisan leanings would be a dis-service to the country."

In discussing European defenses, he said:

"The advances of the past year have been encouraging but there is always the gray zone of human affairs. There are some fine advantages and some discouraging ones."

Mrs. Eisenhower flew with her husband from Paris. They will visit their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, at Fort Knox, Ky., before the General comes on to Washington tomorrow night for his two-day round of talks. He will return to Paris Wednesday.

The White House said today the General and President Truman will meet twice Monday—at a Blair House luncheon for just the two and a White House conference to be attended also by state and de-

HUGE RED FEATHER DRIVE SCHEDULED

Largest In History Set For Monday; Firms Asked To Join Honor Roll

Greatest Red Feather drive in local history gets officially underway Monday with leaders confidently expecting more than 300 firms to join the 100 per cent Honor Roll class with all employes participating in the widely popular payroll deduction plan enabling them to pledge as much as eight hours' pay and pay it out over a period of months during 1952.

First 100 per cent Honor Roll firm to get under the wire for the 1952 campaign was announced Saturday night at Baker's Shoe Store, 213 DeSiard. Tim McCarthy, store manager, telephoned the good news to Campaign Chairmen A. B. Clarkson and Evans Ethridge.

"Are we first? Are we first?" McCarthy eagerly inquired.

Co-Chairman Evans Ethridge, who happened to answer the call, grinned broadly and assured McCarthy that the Baker firm was indeed first.

McCarthy breathed a sigh of relief. "That's great!" he exclaimed. "Last year our store was fiftieth on the 100 per cent Honor Roll list and we were determined to be first this year, if possible."

Chairman Clarkson and Ethridge complimented McCarthy, his firm and their employes for their zealous spirit in pushing their own campaign to such limits. They checked the records and confirmed the fact that the firm met its own quota, McCarthy as executive met his personal quota, and each employe gave a full eight hour's pay, payable during 1952.

Thus, 1952's 100 per cent Honor Roll list got off to an early start. This list will be published daily throughout the campaign, as it was last year. Whereas there were 67 firms on the prized list last year—first time the plan has been used—every confidence was expressed by drive leaders that at least 300 firms will make the coveted roll this year.

Signs were already obvious that many firms are striving early to be among the first on the list. A. O. Evans, manager of the northern division, Louisiana Power and Light Company, informed Chest leaders that his company's payroll deduction solicitation campaign had been in progress for over two weeks. Evans expressed confidence that this early start and a better understanding of the advantages of the plan by employes will result in an even greater return this year than in 1950 when Mr. Evans led the L. P. & L. group to an all-time record high in Chest giving.

"We have found the payroll deduction plan for contributions to the nine Community Chest agencies a most highly satisfactory method," Evans was quoted as saying. "Our company likes the plan and so do our employes. It makes sense to us and it enables the employes to pledge adequately now and then pay off their pledges in easy installments during 1952."

Another bright spot in the industrial picture was announced by Chairmen Clarkson and Ethridge following a conference with J. W. Treadwell, superintendent, Missouri Pacific Lines. Mr. Treadwell told the Chest leaders he was solidly behind the Red Feather drive and would heartily endorse it to each department under his jurisdiction.

Word has also been received from officials of the Arkansas & Louisiana Missouri Railway Company that their firm is supporting the Chest fully and that payroll deduction had been authorized for their

Justice Department Sends Subpoenas To Syndicates

Chicago, Nov. 3.—(AP)— The Chicago Tribune said today that lawyers of the anti-trust division of the department of justice have obtained subpoenas and had them served upon six newspaper feature syndicates in New York.

The subpoenas demand production before a grand jury of all records relating to the sale or lease of comic strips, columns or other features marketed by syndicates, the paper said.

Named in the orders are Bell Syndicate, Inc., United Feature Syndicate; McNaught Syndicate, Inc.; NEA Service, Inc.; King Features Syndicate; and Chicago Tribune - New York News Syndicate.

The Tribune said federal attorneys have refused to comment on the investigation beyond acknowledging that the subpoenas have been issued.

CLAIMS GERMANS SHOULD BE EQUAL

High Commissioner John McCloy Argues For German Rearmament

Bremerhaven, Germany, Nov. 3. —(AP)—U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy declared tonight the time has come for Germans to become equal, armed partners in a united Europe.

"This association will be a guarantee for peace," McCloy said in an address to the Bremerhaven chapter of the American National Defense Transportation Association. ciation.

"This is a crucial period," McCloy said, and progress so far has been "slower than we wish."

He called upon all Europeans to abandon their "nationalism and cynicism" to bring the dream of European unity to a quick reality.

McCloy struck at Communist attempts to discourage West Germany from arming with the west by holding out the prospect of reuniting all Germany.

"I believe that the integration of the (West German) Federal Republic into the western community as a full partner will hasten the day of German reunification," McCloy said.

"Already this purpose and determination have forced Soviet zone authorities to talk about all-German elections after refusing for more than a year."

The high commissioner conceded

A long time resident related the past week a chapter in Monroe's past history still of interest. It was about the year 1911, and a famous agricultural expert, one who had done marvels in the raising of pigs and corn in Iowa, was invited to come to Monroe to tell how it was done. The Chamber of Commerce here planned a big dinner for him and to make it really interesting, a man who was elected to the U. S. senate but who was debarred from taking his seat, had been purchasing extensive lands in and about Bosco. He was also invited as a surprise guest at the same dinner. The man was Lorimer, a former governor of Illinois, who ran for the U. S. senate and was elected but was unseated after a much publicized trial on a charge that he had secured election through misuse of money.

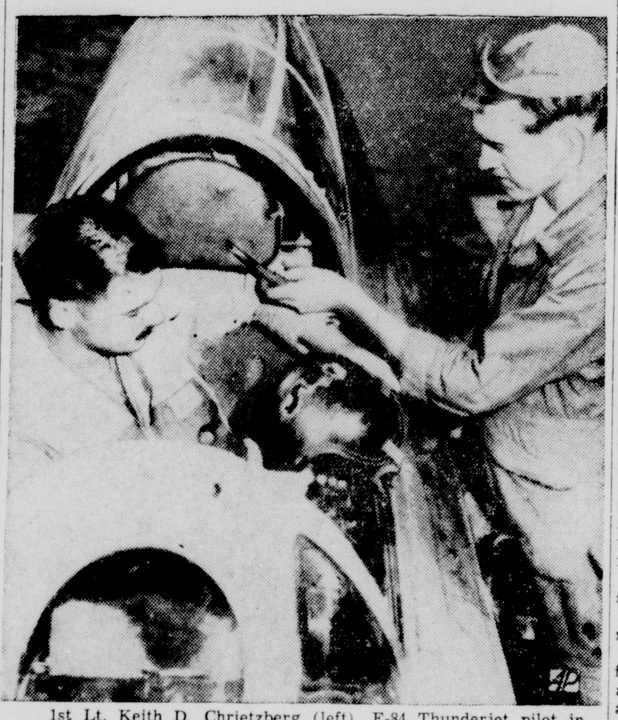

The dinner here was prepared and the man from Iowa, fresh from that state with what might be termed "pig laurels" for his past successes, was on hand. So was Lorimer.

When the meal was started, the presiding officer introduced the Iowa man, and then told him that he had a great surprise, that Mr. Lorimer of Illinois was here as

REPORT SCHOOLS ARE OVERPAID

Two GI Trade Schools Closed Due To $90,000 Excess In Payments

Shreveport, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Overpayments totaling about $90,000 to two Shreveport area trade schools were disclosed today in a letter to Representative Brooks (D.-La.) from Charles, acting assistant manager of the Veterans Administration office here.

The two schools—North Louisiana Trade School, Minden and the Bossier Welding School, Bossier City—were closed Wednesday by W. F. Galloway of Minden, part owner and operator of the schools.

Co-owners of the Bossier Welding School are R. Frank Cangelosi, Jr., and Marion J. Cangelosi. They took no active part in the school's management.

Galloway owns the Minden school.

About 230 veterans attended the schools.

Brooks requested information from the Veterans Administration and in its reply the VA said that an audit of the Minden trade school showed "an overpayment of approximately $43,000 existed." Audit of the Bossier City school has not been completed however Grimes' letter said an overpayment of about the same amount was made.

"In accordance with VA regulations, the findings of the accountant have been turned over to the U. S. attorney. Further action by the U. S. attorney is a matter to be determined by him," Grimes' letter said.

William J. Fleniken, acting U. S. attorney here, confirmed that a file had been turned over to him by the VA but declined to comment on its content.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

ETHEL ROSE ROGERS

DEATH OF GIRL CALLED ACCIDENT

Funeral Services For L. S. U. Coed Of Columbia Set For 2:30 P. M.

A coroner's jury today called the mystery shooting of a Louisiana State University co-ed "accidental death."

The verdict followed an inquest into the death of Ethel Rose Rogers, 21-year-old music student from Columbia, La., found on the floor of her dormitory room yesterday with a bullet wound in the chest.

Testimony at the inquest today showed that Miss Rogers had borrowed a .22 caliber automatic pistol from Santiago Aragones, a student from Caracas, Venezuela.

Aragones said Miss Rogers wanted to go "turtle hunting" with the gun. He said he loaned her the gun without bullets. A box containing 43 cartridges was found by officers when they investigated the victim's room.

The officers said they found one empty shell, five cartridges in the magazine and one in the firing chamber.

Funeral services will be held today at 2:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church of Columbia. Officiating clergy will be the Rev. Sam Holliday, pastor, assisted by the Rev. S. A. Seegars, former pastor. Interment is to be in the Columbia cemetery.

Besides her parents, Miss Rogers is survived by her maternal grandfather, Albert Mixon of Grayson, and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Rogers of Columbia.

Miss Rogers was a student at Northeast State, then a junior college, before transferring to L. S. U.

As the highest ranking member of the graduating class of 1949, she was awarded a scholarship to the university. There she completed requirements for the bachelor's degree this past June, during which time she also started graduate study.

She was a candidate for the master's degree as a piano major in June 1952.

While she was at Northeast State, Miss Rogers studied piano under Mrs. Florence Z. Allbritton and organ under James F. Monroe. Both considered her a brilliant student with unlimited possibilities.

Her campus interests included membership in Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society, Music Ed-

Armistice Committee Meets To Propose Demilitarization Of Kaesong

By Nate Polowetzky

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Nov. 4.—(AP)—An Allied proposal to demilitarize controversial Kaesong brightened prospects for agreement on a buffer zone in the Korean truce talks Saturday.

The Reds had not yet replied, but any such new situation usually requires a higher-level Communist huddle.

It was possible that something concrete might develop at today's 11th meeting of the Armistice subcommittees at 11 a. m. (9 a. m., E. S. T. Saturday).

The Armistice subcommittee met in Panmunjom for another attempt to reach an agreement at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. E. S. T. Saturday). It was the 11th session of the joint subcommittees.

The Allied proposal to resolve the knotty buffer zone problem was made orally during Saturday's four-hour meeting at Panmunjom. Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols.

FULLER CHARGES TERMED UNTRUE

Trousdale Tells Of Scuffle, Denies He Offered 'Bribe' To Member

James H. Trousdale, Jr., president of the Ouachita parish school board, last night denied the statement of Rayville Fuller, another school board member, regarding a "scuffle" the two had Friday night and branded as false Fuller's charge that he (Trousdale) had made an offer to Fuller to "feather his nest" if Fuller would vote as Trousdale had requested.

Trousdale said Fuller's statement of the encounter contained gross inaccuracies and that he had not been beaten "in the sense that I suffered great harm." In a signed statement, Trousdale said Fuller hit him two glancing blows, neither of which knocked him down, and then got a "jui-jitsu" hold on him. He said that neither he nor his brother, George Trousdale, was armed and that he did not call Fuller from his veterans' classroom with the purpose of "provoking a fight."

"There is absolutely no truth in Fuller's statement that I offered to 'feather his nest' if he would vote against Avants (Mack Avants, superintendent of parish schools)," Trousdale said.

Fuller made his statement following the scuffle Friday night. An effort at that time to reach Trousdale for comment was unavailing.

Trousdale's statement in full, addressed to the World, is as follows:

"One purpose of this statement is to correct gross inaccuracies appearing in your newspaper this morning under the headline "Pres. of School Board is Beaten." Another purpose is to acquaint the public with the facts surrounding the encounter between Rayville Fuller and me.

"In the first place, I was not "beaten" in the sense that I suffered great harm. I was not knocked down three times; not

Truman To Speak On Foreign Policy

By John M. Hightower

Washington, Nov. 3. —(AP)— President Truman will make a foreign policy address to the nation Wednesday night on what is reported to be a new plan or formula for strengthening world peace.

The plan is said to aim at improving relations between the western powers and the Soviet Union.

The White House suddenly announced tonight that the president would speak from his office at 10:30 p.m., E. S. T., Wednesday. All major radio and television networks will carry the speech, the White House said.

The announcement was made by Press Secretary Joseph Short without amplification.

However, it was understood that what Mr. Truman will say is linked with impending developments at the United Nations general assembly meeting which opens in Paris Tuesday.

An indication of the nature of western power moves in that session came earlier today from French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman and what he said was born out in large part by information obtained tonight from authoritative informants here.

The French foreign policy leader told a political meeting at Rennes, France, that the western powers will introduce sensational moves for peace in the general assembly.

"These next days at the United Nations you will see initiatives, in which France is associated, which will make a sensation and whose aim is to strengthen peace," he said.

The best information available here was that the moves would not be particularly sensational—in the sense, for example, of a call for a conference with Prime Minister Stalin. But the western powers were reported prepared to put forth a suggestion which, if accepted by the Soviets, could lead to substantial improvement in the prospects for world peace.

The speech will follow conferences with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who arrived in this country today to confer with the president and other high officials Monday and Tuesday.

Eisenhower is reported to be seeking a speed-up in the establish-

Cline Will Not Seek Mayoralty

The hot gubernatorial race notwithstanding, city politics came in for a bit of attention yesterday when Frank X. Cline, commissioner of finance and utilities, announced he would not seek the Monroe mayoralty nomination at the next municipal election, but would seek to retain his present office.

Mr. Cline, along with two or three others, has been mentioned as a possible candidate. He put a stop to that with the following statement, published in an advertisement elsewhere in this newspaper:

"For the past several months a report has been circulated to the effect that I will be a candidate for the office of mayor of the City of Monroe at the next municipal election, therefore, I wish to correct this report by stating that I will not be a candidate for the office of mayor, but I will be a candidate for re-election to the office of commissioner of finance and public utilities."

Mayor John Coon, who was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Mayor George Breece, definitely is expected to be a candidate for a first elective term. Others who have been mentioned as candidates include Jack Howard, Miss Nona Martin and George Tidwell. Mr. Howard told a reporter several months ago that under no circumstances would he be a candidate. None of the others has made a commitment one way or the other—publicly, that is.

PEACE MOVES BY WEST PROMISED

France's Foreign Minister Claims Western Powers To Introduce Them

Rennes, France, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Robert Schuman told a political meeting here last night France and other western powers will introduce sensational moves for peace at the U. N. general assembly opening in Paris Tuesday.

But he did not amplify on this section of his speech:

"These next days at the United Nations you will see initiatives, in which France is associated, which will make a sensation and whose aim is to strengthen peace."

In Paris, French foreign ministry officials said they had no knowledge of any sensational impending move on the part of France in the U. N. and that only Schuman himself could explain. Schuman, on a provincial election tour, could not be reached for comment. He is backing a popular Republican party candidate against a De Gaullist in a by-election to fill an ill-et-vilaine department (county) seat in the national parliament.

Some qualified observers regarded Schuman's statement as campaign oratory. Others said he may have meant a new move for a big-four meeting aimed at ending the cold war or may have been referring to a project for a European federation.

W. Monroe City Council To Meet

The West Monroe city council will hold a regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the city hall.

Mayor C. C. Bell stated that no special business is planned for the meeting, but the group will meet to handle routine business.

No action, Mayor Bell said, has been taken for the replacement for Hugh Taylor, who resigned from the council October 1.

Steel Shortage To Ease After Mid '52

By Sterling F. Green

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)— The steel shortage, described as now in "its worst stage," will not ease until after the middle of 1952, government officials predicted today.

There were unofficial indications that the defense production administration will provide little, if any, extra tonnage for the several industries which have appealed from deep cuts in steel supplies ordered in first-quarter 1952.

These include road construction and the building of needed schools and hospitals. About 1,600 new schools for which plans, money and students are ready are stopped dead until OPA can find more steel.

A ruling is expected from DPA Administrator Manly Fleischmann next week but yesterday Fleischmann said he so far has been unable to "invent any steel."

Fleischmann bristled at the suggestion—reported as coming from some construction sources — that the shortage is more apparent than real or that steel is being held back now so the administration can release it in 1952, thereby making an election-year splurge of "licking the steel shortage."

Officials previously have pointed out that the mobilization and production agencies are staffed in most key positions by industry executives. The majority of these are Republicans. Fleischmann told reporters:

"I have never had a political direction of any kind from the White House or anywhere else.

One cause of misunderstanding, officials concede, is the completely accurate statement made by Steel executives that the industry's vast expansion program of 18,500,000 tons in three years is itself sufficient to meet military schedules.

Fleischmann agreed that this is true, but noted that this does not take into account the so-called "civilian" expansion which actually is basic to defense.

In this bracket are the aluminum, steel, petroleum and other privately financed defense construction; merchant shipbuilding; power plants and transmission lines; oil, gas and aviation fuel and so on down to homes utilities, plumbing and stoves for the families of workers at the huge new atomic and defense plants.

The defense drive is contributing to a $29,000,000,000 construction total this year. This is only slightly off 1950's record volume despite the shortages and controls.

The steel industry itself is getting only 51 per cent of the structural steel it needs to push through its own expansion on lay in bringing capacity into balschedule—which means further deance with demand.

"I think the steel shortage is now

Taxes, Costs Begin Taking Huge Bites Of All Incomes

By Richard Fiske

New York, Nov. 3. —(AP)—Taxes and costs began taking larger bites in the pocketbooks of everyone this week—from big industry to the small consumer.

New tax rates went into effect on Thursday. The consumer's pay check was smaller. He paid more for a long list of items that ranged from luxuries to necessities.

Business and industry already had felt the pinch. Many corporations had been providing for the bigger tax bites they knew were coming. The personal income tax hike of about 11¾ per cent for the average taxpayer will raise most of the new money. Corporations will contribute the second largest slice of new revenue.

By virtue of the number of persons affected, if for no other reason, the tax and price news all but overshadowed such important items as industrial production, reports of lesser earnings and labor difficulties.

All but lost in the welter of tax talk was the new record of the nation's steel industry, which is basic to most others.

American iron and steel institute reported the largest amount of steel ever made in a week in the United States—2,089,000 tons. The previous record was 2,079,000 tons. The previous record was 2,079,000 tons in the week starting last April 30.

Steelmaking furnaces operated at 104.5 per cent of capacity to do the job. It was the 35th week this year they have been operating at 100 per cent of capacity or better.

Electric power, the stuff that keeps industrial wheels turning, hit a record high of 7,233,928,000 kilo-

LEGION CORNER

Each year L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 of Monroe conducts its membership drive during October and concludes it November 11. The drive is timed to close on November 11 for two reasons —because that date is Armistice Day and commemorates the end of World War I, and because conclusion of membership efforts at that time leaves almost an entire year for Legion projects for community, state and nation.

All present and former members of L. B. Faulk Post are urged to pay their 1952 dues and renew their membership prior to November 11, so that the Post can report their renewals to department headquarters before the deadline. All honorably discharged veterans of wartime service who are not members of the American Legion are invited to apply for membership now. Contact any Legionnaire, or call 3-2741 or 3-5316.

There's A Better Way

The Ouachita parish school board is embroiled in another row.

The most recent outbreak was brought about in the selection of a superintendent to succeed Mack Avants, who resigned. There were charges of attempted bribery, "crookedness" and politics. The president of the board immediately asked the district attorney to investigate these charges, which he rightfully should have done, and preliminary questioning was followed by physical encounter bteween the president and another member which, fortunately, did little damage to either participant. The incident only further accentuated the rift between members of the board, with its resultant damage to the school system.

There is also said to have been some lively discussions concerning school board finances. Some people thought that the funds received from the $7,000,000 bond issue were spread too thinly to do the job properly; in other words, in an attempt to please everyone, the board tried to carry out a buiding program which was not absolutely essential. As a result, we are told, some of the projects which were deemed necessary by everyone concerned may not be completed as planned.

It is unfortunate that a group of grown men who are entrusted with administration of a governmental agency as large and as important as the parish school system cannot sit around a table and adjust their differences calmly and in a deliberate manner. As The World pointed out some two years ago when the big argument came up over legality of some members to sit on the board, and later the selection of a board president: The school children and the taxpayers are not interested in personalities: they are interested only in the selection of men who will do the best job toward the advancement of our school system.

In this connection, it will be recalled that Monroe's city officials received invaluable assistance from a group of business and professional men in working out several projects of importance to the city. This citizens committee conferred frequently and gave their advice freely—knowledge learned over a period of many years of business experience—so that a feasible program for the advancement of the city could be consummated. There were no strings attached, no influence attempted and no personalities involved in the general discussions. Our city officials have publicly expressed their thanks for the assistance rendered. Why couldn't a similar plan be evolved for the expressed purpose of bringing about a more complete understanding between members of the parish school board? It should at least bring them together for coordination of thinking and of action for the ultimate benefit of the parish as a whole. An open meeting of the board should be held for this purpose.

We sincerely hope that personal differences will be forgotten and that the school board will get on with the work to be done without further delay.

Community Chest Appeal

Officially there is no national goal for the annual Community Chest drives now getting under way. But as a rough guide the campaign leaders estimate that they could use at least $226,000,000 in the year ahead.

Last year the Red Feather campaigns from coast to coast raised $200,000,000. The bigger demand this time stems largely from inclusion of a new responsibility, the so-called United Defense Fund. The local goal, however, remains the same. And all of it remains here.

The merit of these causes, plus the 15,000 regular Red Feather services to the young, the ill, the aged and the handicapped, is too apparent to require comment. This general charity, above all, deserves your most generous support.

It is unfortunately true that legitimate demands for your charity dollars have arisen in recent years outside the scope of the Community Chest. The Red Feather plan was originally devised to encompass all demands and free the willing giver of endless bombardment from assorted worthy causes.

Some cities have now met the problem by reorganizing their local fund drives under a new title, once more embracing all worthy charities in one. Where this is the case, those campaigns merit the same full support asked for the Red Feather elsewhere.

Possibly the Community Chest will some day again include every notable charity which competes for your generosity. Until that time, you can be guided in your decisions by the knowledge that the Red Feather still includes the largest number and variety of services of any charitable appeal you will hear.

If you must cut down somewhere, spare the Community Chest. Not only is its coverage comprehensive; its leaders are earnestly striving to broaden its appeal further.

Reach into your pockets when the representative of the Twin Cities Community Chest calls on you, be prepared to give generously. And give as you never have before.

Strength In Petroleum

Those who are fearful of another war should find comfort in a public statement by Walter S. Hallahan, chairman of the National Petroleum Council, who declares the nation's oil reserves of 30,000,000,000 barrels are more feared by Russia than its stockpile of atomic bombs.

In Napoleon's day, Mr. Hallahan pointed out, armies traveled on their stomachs. Today all military operations —land, sea and air—depend upon fuel, millions of gallons of high octane gasoline, fuel oil and specialized lubricants.

Petroleum played a big part in winning the last war. To that end Mr. Hallahan declares the industry is ready to accept any dislocations or sacrifices in case of another conflict. He makes it clear, however, that the industry will fight against any efforts to destroy freedom of operation by socialistic schemes or government control.

"We want no part in this fallacious and destructive philosophy," he declares.

This is the position of a great industry, without which the nation cannot stand against any enemy. Left to its own intelligent operation it will provide a line of defense against which Russia cannot stand.

Under government meddling, the petroleum industry would be so hampered by red tape its strength would be depleted. Mr. Hallahan's warnings should be heeded in high places.

Total Eclipses

The U. S. will send experts to Egypt next February to observe a total eclipse of the sun calculated to last for three minutes. The United States navy is particularly interested in the phenomenon to further certain studies relating to navigational and other problems.

If the experts will stay home, they will observe numerous total political eclipses in the United States next year. A tide of votes will come between aspirants and the shining offices they seek, obscuring the lovely prospect forever. This will happen scores of times in the primaries, in the conventions and in the general elections.

Such total eclipses at home may not have much to do with the navigational problems of the navy, but they will have a heavy bearing on the shoals, tides, snags and other hazards which affect the navigation of the ship of state.

THESE DAYS

VATICAN REPRESENTATION

No matter whether one favors or opposes American diplomatic representation at the Vatican, it must be obvious that nothing can be gained by indecorous conduct in our relations wit hthe pope. Nothing can be gained by the United States, nor does it strengthen Christianity in this era of a Marxian onslaught on the religions of God that so important a matter should be used to divert the attention from corruption in the internal revenue offices.

Surely President Truman knew that congress was adjourning when he sent General Mark Clark's nomination to the senate; everybody else knew that. Why then throw this bomb at us?

The United States has had relations with the Vatican since 1797 when John B. Sartori, though only a consul, was granted diplomatic courtesies. At that time, the papal states were an extensive area in Italy, some 16,000 square miles as compared with 109 square miles today. However, it would seem from our best religious history, "Church and State in the United Staes," by Anson Phelps Stokes, that representation was opposed and faded as an issue until 1847 when President Polk sent a message to congress on the subject:

"The secretary of state has submitted an estimate to defray the expense of opening diplomatic relations with the papal states. The interesting political events now in progress in these states, as well as a just regard to our commercial interests have in my opinion rendered such a measure highly expedient."

The consensus of opinion at that time was that whereas it would benefit this country to be represented at the Vatican politically, it would not be right to have representation to the pope as head of a church. The house of representatives, in which there were only two Roman Catholic members, voted in favor of providing funds 137 to 15. The senate also passed the measure and Jacob L. Martin, a convert to Catholicism, was appointed the first charge d'affaires.

William H. Seward, secretary of state, in 1862, wrote to Richard M. Blatchford, U. S. minister to the papal states:

". . . It was under these circumstances that this government, in 1848, wisely determined that while it maintained representatives in the capitals of every other civilized state, and even at the capitals of many semi - civilized states which reject the whole Christian religion, it was neither wise nor necessary to exclude Rome from the circle of our diplomatic intercourse. Thus far the new relation then established has proved pleasant and beneficial."

A major factor in the discontinuance of this representation was the unwillingness of the papal authorities to permit Protestant worship outside the legation grounds. An ambassador or a minister resident in foreign country is, by the law of nations, permitted to worship in his own private chapel. But this had become difficult in Rome. Rufus L. King, our minister, wrote to Secretary of State Seward:

". . . It has not unfrequently occurred that the congregation, worshipping under the minister's roof, has reached the number of two hundred and fifty, or three hundred; and more than once has been much larger than could be accommodated in the apartments provided . . ."

In 1867, congress refused to appropriate further funds and thus, the mission ceased, not to be revived, until Harry Truman appointed Gen. Mark Clark to it, except that during 1939 President Roosevelt appointed Myron C. Taylor to this post as the "personal representative of the president of the United States of Aemrica to his holiness, Pope Pius XII."

As this position did not exist in law and as Mr. Taylor served without personal compensation, the matter did not come before the congress. Mr. Taylor was not an official of this government. His appointment in this manner was a subterfuge.

The question of such representation is indeed a vexed one. The Vatican is a state with its own flag, courts, postal service, currency, etc. The pope is, in this sense, a temporal ruler. Also, the Vatican does represent the most militant and effective moral force in European affairs. The attempt on the part of the Truman administration to explain the value of sending an ambassador to the Vatican on the grounds of a good listening post is a shameless exposure of religious personnel behind the iron curtain to the charge of espionage; surely neither Catholic nor Protestant favors that.

The issue now goes into the 1952 campaign where it does not belong. Protestants and Catholics will quarrel over it and forget the corruption of the tax collectors. Mr. Truman has again proved his genius at sly devices.

IN HOLLYWOOD

Hollywood, November 3. — Filmville-by-the-Pacific has witnessed many strange "weddings," but never one more startling than the recent association of Gary Cooper and writer Carl Forman in a new independent production company.

During the first sessions of the house un-American activities committee, Cooper, appearing voluntarily as a witness, was vociferous in denouncing Hollywood Communists and their efforts to infiltrate the motion picture industry. He established himself, at that time, as one of our farthest-to-the-right citizens, and ever since he has been regarded quite generally, as a leader in the battle against the Filmville Reds and Pinks.

Foreman, on the other hand, is one of the witnesses who, during the most recent session of the un-American activities committee, shielded himself behind the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer all questions asked about his asserted membership in the Communist party or his reported affiliations with Communist front organizations. By his refusal to answer, he convinced most Hollywood observers that he is, of has been in the immediate past, an active member of the Communist party. That conviction was strengthened still further when Stanley Kramer, head of the company in which Foreman was then a partner, announced a few days after the hearing that Foreman would be ousted from all connection with the Kramer company.

As I said before, this new partnership between Gary Cooper and Carl Foreman is startling. Only two possible explanations occur to me. Either Gary Cooper believes that Foreman, despite his adherence to the established Communist line when he appeared before the house committee, is not a Commie, or he (Cooper) is willing to waive his objections to Foreman's politics in the hope of cashing in on his undeniable ability as a writer-producer.

Idol Chatter: The Hollywoodite who finds a piece of paper covered with sketches of clowns can be reasonably sure that Red Skelton has been there. . . Nominated for the man-of - the - week award: Dan Dailey, for objecting to the unrumpled pajamas he was supposed to wear in a getting-out-of-bed-after-a-full-night's sleep scene in "The Girl Next Door" . . . I suppose you could cite the case of Lili St. Cyr as proof that even with a $1500 a week salary, a modern girl may still have a bare existence. . . Add ladies with practical ideas: Esther Williams, who's landscaping her front yard with 30 citrus trees. . . The only way a photographer will ever get a shot of Jean Simmons smiling is to catch her unaware; she taboos all but serious poses.

The news that the life story of Margaret Sanger, the nurse who stirred up an international sensation a couple of decades ago by her advocacy of birth control, reminds me of some startling statistics I heard the other day. They came from Dr. Elmer Pendell, whose scholarly book, "Population on the Loose," points out the disastrous impact of great increases in a nation's population. According to his carefully verified figures, the population of the United States has increased by eighteen million persons since the day on which Pearl Harbor was bombed! That increase, on the basis of the 1950 census, equals the present combined population of 15 states—Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana!

Maybe it's time, at that, for a picture setting forth the militant campaigns of Margaret Sanger.

Here's an amusing little story I'd hesitate to use if I hadn't heard it attested by a number of eyewitnesses. Seems that Jean Simmons, the British import who's currently starring in "Androcles and the Lion," has a 10-months-old toy French poodle to which she is deeply attached. "Queen Bess" (that's the pup's name) was with her mistress when the lion which figures so largely in the picture's plot was brought to the set in its cage. The pooch took one look at the big cat and charged the cage, barking at the top of its shrill voice. At that the lion opened its cavernous maw and loosed a thunderous roar. Queen Bess keeled over in a dead faint—passed out cold!

A nearby veterinarian, summoned by the frantic Jean, examined the pup and opined that it had suffered a minor heart attack.

Our Children

THE REPORT CARD

Report cards are a necessity. To parents it is a gauge of what the teachers think of a child's progress, his attitudes, and achievements. School and home are partners in the greatest undertaking a people can cherish: the education, the full development of their children. On the success of this undertaking the future of a nation rests.

Parents are chiefly concerned with the progress of their own children. If they do well, the school is perfect; if they fail, the school is, as far as they are concerned, just no good. The report card serves to keep the partnership alert and alive, warning when the children seem to be slipping, recording when they are doing all right.

What kind of card will serve best. In my experience, the simpler the card the better. I still like best the card that said, Effort, Result, Conduct, Attendance and the teacher's signature. The details behind these simple letters are easily explained, the records shown, the child's papers shown at the conference that should always be held between teacher and parent when any question arises about the child's progress and the teacher's opinions about him.

The question of competition arises. Is it well to make an A a matter of pride, something to strive for, when many pupils cannot reach the required standard? I say yes. It is best always to tell the truth as you see it. Anybody with eyes in his mind sees that it is essential for some among us to reach the heights of success that they may lead those who must follow. To say that because some children will feel bad, have an inferiority complex because they get a B while others get an A, does not make sense to me. Are all of us to be levelled to the lowest power? Of course not. Life will not permit it.

Instead of accepting the attitude of the child who, because he cannot get it, we should teach him to make the best of what he has. If he does that he will find happiness. If he fails to do that he will continue all his life to be grudging and therefore miserable for the A man will not be a B man, come what may. Nature and nature's God have the last word there.

Let's be honest with ourselves and the children, helping each to do his best. Teach the honor pupils their obligation to society and teach the B group that it is they who carry the world on their shoulders. To each his place, to each his duty.

UNMASKING SANTA CLAUS

It has been axiomatic in both British and American politics that "nobody shoots Santa Claus."

In other words, so long as the politicians of any party are unprincipled enough to attempt to make more people believe they will benefit from a policy of taking from the "haves" and giving to the "have-nots" than vice versa, then that party will stay in power and no amount of logic will overthrow it.

It was under this theory that many people believed it would be impossible to overthrow socialism in Great Britain. It is under this theory that the same people now prophesy that the life of the new Conservative government in Britain will be short.

It is also under this theory that many people in the United States, intelligent, well-informed people, have been convinced that the trend toward socialism in this country is inevitable and that it is coming regardless of what we may do about it.

That is a defeatist attitude. It is even a cowardly attitude. It denies the will for freedom to both individuals and nations. It disregards all the struggles and all the gains made by freedom - loving people since the beginning of time.

If enough people take that attitude—in national socialism is, slavery of national socialism is, of course, inevitable in that country and the people who make it possible don't deserve freedom.

It is to be devoutly believed, however, that these defeatists overlook a very important fact in the recent British election—that while the Britons maybe didn't shoot Santa Claus, they did unmask him!

Six years of "soaking the rich," of redistributing the national wealth of Great Britain, brought the Britons to the realization that there were no more rich to soak, that the wealth had been redistributed and still Utopia had not arrived.

It is to be believed that they have found out in Great Britain that "there is no such thing as a free lunch." They have found out that a redistribution of wealth not only dissipates the wealth thus far accumulated, but destroys all incentive to create and accumulate any more wealth.

The people of Britain have found out that they are their own Santa Claus, and that Santa Claus can only provide what they furnish.

That is a wonderful lesson and the learning of it is the only hope a people can have for the freedom whose only basis must be the dignity of the individual.

Whether the British have learned this lesson too late remains to be seen. Undoubtedly, the damage to their empire and to their economic resources under socialism has been appalling. Even more disastrous, perhaps, is the damage to their morale, to their independence and self-reliance, under the "Santa Claus" philosophy.

The old saying that, "We never miss the water until the well runs dry" is only too true. The well ran dry in Great Britain. Will they be able, through a restoration of the incentive to exercise their initiative and ingenuity, be able to replenish it? That also remains to be seen. Certainly, it is their only hope.

Shall we in the United States, benefiting from Britain's experience, be wise enough to avoid the ruin and degredation that are the inevitable results of the planned economy of the welfare state? If so, it will be worth all that British aid has cost us or will cost us to help Britain re-establish herself. If not, we can only expect our well to run dry. Then there will be no Santa Claus to shoot. Santa Claus will have committed suicide!

Footlights And Floodlights

First Nights are social events for audiences. But they represent a deep personal crisis for creative artists. . .They are as devoted to their brain - children as parents are to their babies. . .Opening nights are crowded with hopes and challenges. . .Talent faces its most rigorous test and ambition reaches its climax. . .And there is always the nervous excitement generated by fear. Those who seek success must inevitably risk failure . . . Months and possibly years of difficult creative effort is unveiled in a few hours. . .Out of these hours can emerge a rare work of art or a dismal flop. Wild fears can become a bitter reality or the most glorious aspirations fulfilled.

Great performers must be equipped with spiritual strength as well as artistic skills. . .The true test of champions is not whether they are always victorious — but whether they can triumph when obstacles are most formidable.

Beatrice Lillie offered one of the most dramatic illustrations of a Big Time trouper during World War II . . .They handed her a telegram (informing that her only son was missing in action) an hour before curtain - time for her new show. . . The tragic news spread backstage. . . .A few moments before "Curtain!" she sent her maid to pin a note on the bulletin board. . ."I know how you all feel, darlings," it said, "so we won't say a word about it. Let's wow 'em!". . .Her heart in agony, Bea went on to another triumph.

The emotional intensity gripping players during inaugurals vibrates every nerve. Stage frightmare is common. . .Elizabeth Bergner was once afflicted with a severe jitters case in London. . . . After Act I she was supposed to emit an agonized scream. . . When the cue arrived—she couldn't. . .Her throat muscles were paralyzed momentarily. . . But what appeared to be disaster turned out to be a happy incident. . . .The critics were wildly enthusiastic about her performance. They were especially impressed by her portrayal of "muted agony."

When Helen Hayes starred in "Mary of Scotland," one of the supporting players actually fainted on stage. . .Helen, however, was equal to the moment. . . remaining in character, she adlibbed: "It is just one of my women, m'Lord. She is subject to these spells. Help her to my chamber."

The play continued with none out front wiser that anything unusual had occurred.

No premiere is complete without the backstage hoopla following the final asbestos. . .Friends pile into the star's dressing room and shower him with superlatives. . .Otis Skinner once witnessed a yawny portrayal of Hamlet — which had a friend in the title assignment. . . Unwilling to offend his chum, Skinner went backstage, clutched the hand of the goshawful Hamlet and ejaculated: "Ah, my friend. What a night for Shakespeare!"

Composer Cole Porter, by the way is another cucumber type. He always buys tickets at the box-office for his premieres-arrives early and trades greetings with friends in the foyer . . . And there is no false modesty in the talented Cole's makeup . . . He enjoys his own shows and applauds all his songs.

This generation probably doesn't know about this one-time top vaudeville team . . . Played the Keith and Orpheum Circuits when vaudeville really mattered . . . Their trademark song was "Hello, Hello, Fish Don't Perspire!" Another of their lines to become a household crack was: "You can't bounce a meatball" . . . Panicked the people . . . A dozen years ago the team broke up the act because one was very ill . . . A few weeks ago they started rehearsing again —hoping maybe the new monster —television—would present another opporutnity . . . The other day that long-awaited phone call came. For a top teevy program . . . "Ah, at last!" they sighed. Dreams do come true . . . But the sick one was felled again and his partner responded to the call, anyway . . . A chap with crew cut met him at the stage entrance . . . "My partner got sick," explained the comedian . . . "It doesn't matter," was the reply. "We need old-time actors for walk on bits. D'ya want it?" . . . With a tear in his throat, Sam Lewis of the great 2-a-day team of Lewis & Dody accepted his first job in teevy.

Edmund Kean, one of Britan's top troupers, inspired the wildest opening night . . . Kean walked out before his opening in Boston "because the theatre wasn't filled" . . . A riot resulted . . . Playgoers there never forgot the insult. . . When he returned some years later he was hooted off the stage. . . Not even a public apology could soothe the aroused New Englanders.

The most dramatic first night starred the fabulous Edwin Booth . . . After his crazed brother killed Lincoln, he naturally was reluctant to appear on a Washington stage . . . Intimates finally prevailed upon him to do so . . . When Booth made his first entrance the audience stood and cheered him for 10 minutes.

After Moss Hart read the rave reports for his comedy, "Once in a Lifetime," he went to Coney Island, picked up his family and brought them to a swanky N. Y. hotel . . . The never returned to Coney Island and never cared to learn what happened to their furniture, etc. . . . . One successful premiere changed his family's way of life.

John F. Royal, one of the finest of the showmen, once managed Keith's in Cleveland . . . Ethel Waters made her debut in the 2-a-day at that theatre . . . Ethel got star billing but expressed dissatisfaction with her dressing room . . . She sent for Royal and said: "I always heard that you treated everyone in show business alike. Why did you give me this room?"

Mr. Royal sent for the backstage elevator operator and said: "Joe tell Miss Waters who had this dressing room last week."

"Sarah Bernhardt," said Joe.

"Mr. Royal," graciously said Ethel, "please forgive me."

In Washington With

BASCOM TIMMONS

President Truman, following the example of congress, is preparing to leave Washington for his longest absence since the campaign of 1948. When he leaves the capital early in November for his "little white house" at Key West, Fla., he will be planning on at least a five-week absence, possibly longer.

The president will do some swimming, sunning and just loafing, but like most members of congress, he will spend most of his "vacation" from Washington working. And like many members of congress, he will also be turning over in his mind 1952 campaign plans, if he had decided, as so many feel, that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Actually, the president is no farther away from touch with the problems of the administration and federal government in Key West than in the Blair House, just across from the white House, particularly with congress out of session.

Except for members of his cabinet, top military commanders, leaders of congress, and members of his own staff, the majority of people the president personally receives each week while he is in Washington, though usually welcome, add little to the solving of important problems faced by the president.

With congress away, the weekly conferences between the president and congressional leaders are out, anyway. He takes his own staff with him to Key West. The other two groups can be in instant touch with the president by telephone when necessary, or at Key West in less than three hours on a fast military plane if personal conferences are deemed necessary.

Meanwhile, the president has saved some sixteen to twenty-four hours a week that he now spends on non-official personal calls: corner - stone layings, dinner and reception appearances and other activities which a president is virtually forced to do while in the nation's capital.

As a result, presidential aides contend that he will get more work done while in Key West than he could accomplish during the same period in Washington.

Nevertheless, the president is taking the calculated risk, particularly if he decides to run again next year, of widespread criticism that he is leaving his post of duty for a five to six week vacation in the Florida sun at one of the most critical times in American history.

Inflation Can Go Further

Although beefsteak prices seem to continue climbing, they are still a long way from the all-time record. The National Geographic Society said that the mark was set in Cricle, Alaska, during the Klondike gold rush when a 10 pound beefsteak sold for $48 a pound.

At that time (1898) eggs were selling at $1 a piece in the mining camps. That was real inflation!

The trouble was you had to have a gold mine to keep up with it, and few people nowadays have gold mines.

Mother-Son Congressional Team Seen

A possibility that the 1952 election may produce the first mother-son congressional team in the nation's history is seen here in the announcement that Oliver E. Bolton, son of Rep. Frances P. Bolton (Rep. - Ohio) may seek election to one of the seats created by re-districting in that state.

Bolton, a 33 year old attorney, is described by his mother as eager to try his political wings. He lives in Ohio's new 11th district, which has been carved, in part, from the overpopulated 22nd district (Cleveland and suburbs) which his mother has represented since 1940.

His father, the late Rep. Chester C. Bolton (Rep. - Ohio) was also i congress for several years, being succeeded by his widow.

Although, according to congressional biographers there have been about 200 sets of father-son combinations in the American congress, including 16 present members whose fathers served in congress before them, there has never been a mother-son combination — much less with both serving at the same time.

Your National Guard

Very few of our local citizens know and realize the potential of the local units of their National Guard. Very few realize that these men who quietly serve without much notice stand ready to give a helping hand to you, their neighbor. The National Guard is primarily a mobilization force but secondarily they stand ready to give our local law enforcement agencies support and helping hand in time of emergency, whether it is a riot, or a flood, or even looking for a lost person. The Louisiana National Guard units have participated in many state and local emergencies since its inception over a century ago. Since it's reactivitation after World War Two, it has played an important part in the tornados at Cotton Valley, Shreveport and New Orleans, as well as the flood in the Jonesville-Ferriday area recently. Few people know that guardsmen hauled water to the dry area along the gulf coast during the last two summers where otherwise the residents would have been without any means of water supply. Yes, the National Guardsman is a man who justiy deserves your loyalty and support.

MABEL LANE IS WINNER IN ART

Captures First And Second Places In Contest Here

Winner of the popular vote at an exehibition held at the Art Shop September 16, was Miss Mabel Lane of Monroe and Natchez. Miss Lane received both first and second place in the competition of local artists with her "Louisiana Bayou" and "River Levee on Cole Plantation" both executed in pastels.

Beginning Sunday, November 4, from 2 until 6 o'clock and for two weeks following 9 until 5 o'clock, an exhibition of eighteen or twenty paintings of Miss Lane's will be open to the public at the Art Shop, 309 Louisville. Miss Lane is partner in the Knabb-Lane Studios, portrait and commercial photographers in Natchez. As a child she took a course in art at Henderson Brown College in Arkadelphia, Ark. Miss Lane was graduated from Nazareth Junior College for Girls at Nazareth, Ky., where she majored in art. She attended the University of Louisville and summer classes at the state university, Lexington, Ky. While in Louisville, she worked with Fred Frankenburger, also exhibited in Louisville. In New Orleans, Miss Lane studied with John McCrady.

Katherine Magruder, winner of third place, was born in Pine Bluff, Ark. She and her husband, Ray Magruder have lived in Monroe for about ten years. They have three children: Joan, 12, Jill, five and ont half, and Don, three and one half. Mrs. Magruder has been painting seriously for a little over a year, beginning when a night extension course was offered in art at Northeast Louisiana State College with Francis Burke. Until this time, she had always been interested in art, designing clothes for herself, her children and her friends, and doing all her own sewing and tailoring. Her ultimate aim lies in the field of portraiture. At present, Mrs. Magruder's painting of the Louisiana Power Plant at Sterlington which was also in the exhibition at the Art Shop, is on display at the Louisiana Power and Light office in New Orleans.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE

Sykes, La.,
Nov. 1, 1951
To The Editor:

The people along the star route from Monroe, La., to Winnfield, La., have not had any mail service since Jack Russell took over the contract several months ago.

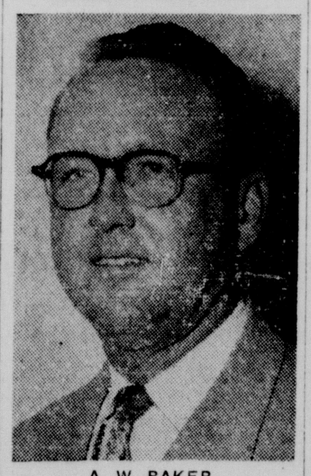

There have been daily complaints going to the Monroe, La., post office in regard to this matter. Why doesn't the superintendent of mails at Monroe, or the inspector, or who ever is in charge give this route to some one who will give us service?

Many of us have boys in the armed forces and we are tired of having to lose a half a day waiting for the mail.

Twin City employes. Similar favorable reaction is expected by Chest leaders from other transportation interests in the area.

Officials said that over $1,300 has been received through the mail from individual subscribers, many of whom are not actively associated in business and who prefer to make their contributions in this manner.

Directors of the Twin City Community Chest, at business meeting earlier in the week, assumed their own share of responsibility in the campaign. Each director present took his own firm campaign kit and agreed to stage an immediate drive to push their units over the top. A special director's division has been set up this year so that these leaders may have an opportunity to show their personal interest in the drive.

The directors also set the goal for 1952 at $67,000—exactly the same amount raised last year.

Another new division, known as the special payroll division, took the field Friday to contact at the earliest possible time all firms in the area with large payrolls so that these will have ample time in which to push through their employe solicitation and payroll deduction campaigns. Another half of this division is expected to meet Thursday to kick off the remaining elements.

Leaders have stressed this year that there will be no house-to-house solicitation of the residential areas, neither will there be any solicitation of school children or any person not employed or the possessor of some type of income. This will lighten the load on all Twin City families and will enable the employed members of the family to pledge their family's share on the payroll deduction basis.

Where certain firms, for technical reasons cannot install payroll deduction, officials were expected to name company collectors who can pick up the pledge installments on designated paydays and turn them over to the Chest.

Since such great interest has been expressed in the 100 per cent honor roll and payroll deduction plan, Chest leaders today decided to publish last year's honor roll so that even further recognition can be given these firms and their employes for their loyal effort of 1950.

Last year's honor roll firms in the order of their standing follows:

1. Monroe Charity Hospital; 2. Louisiana Department of Revenue; 3. Sears, Roebuck and Co.; 4. Montgomery Ward and Co.; 5. Silverstein's; 6. Monroe Furniture Co.; 7. J. C. Penney Co.; 8. Tax Assessor's office, Courthouse; 9. Turpin Lumber Co.; 10. R. and A. Jewelry Co.; 11. Field's Ready-to-Wear; 12. Monroe Hardware Co.;

13. Kellogg Lumber Co.; 14. James Machine Works; 15. Unique Laundry, West Monroe; 16. Northeast Louisiana State College; 17. Durrett Furniture Co.; 18. D. and E. Furniture Co.; 19. Monroe Auto and Supply Co.; 20. Central Oil and Supply Co.; 21. F. Strauss and Son; 22. Monroe fire department; 23. Martin Marble Works; 24. City sanitary department;

25. Cotton States Chemical Co.; 26. Georgia Tucker School; 27. Ouachita Baking Co.; 28. Howard Griffin; 29. Rhealee Hat Shop; 30. Department of public welfare; 31. Louisiana State Employment Service; 32. City engineer's office; 33. Bob Burns Printing Co.; 34. Commercial Securities Co.; 35. Municipal Airport; 36. W. J. Riley Co.; 37. Clover Leaf Dairy;

38. Millsaps Furniture Co., West Monroe; 39. Durrett, Inc., West Monroe; 40. United Electric Service; 41. Louisiana Power and Light Co.; 42. Supreme Bedding and Mfg. Co.; 43. Bancroft Paper Co.; 44. Coleman Mfg. Co.; 45. Scott Truck and Tractor Co.; 46. Industrial Machine and Supply Corp.; 47. Central Auto Sales; 48. Holloway and Thompson;

49. Frank's Smart Shoes; 50. Baker's Shoe Store; 51. Brown Paper Industries; 52. E. R. and L. K. Breard, realtors; 53. H. L. Rosenhein Co.; 54. Newton School; 55. The Texas Co.; 56. Central Service No. 1; 57. DeStard Optical Co.; 58 Radio Station KNOE; 59. Mayor and clerk's offices West Monroe; 60. W. N. Reynolds Co.; 61. Gay Clothing Store; 62. Dixie Liquid Fertilizer Co.; 63. Southern Lumber and Box Co.; 64. Geo. Guerriero Ins. Agency; 65. Lida Benton School; 66. City school board office staff; 67. Monroe Colored School.

(Editor's Note: Twin City Community Chest campaign leaders stated that the above 100 per cent honor roll list is complete insofar as an inspection of records shows. Any ommission from the list is entirely unintentional and will be cheerfully corrected if called to the attention of the Chest secretary, Phone 8218.)

United Nations command spokesman, said the Communists seemed cool but said nothing definite.

Until that meeting, the Allies had insisted that the Reds yield some 200 square miles of territory in western Korea—including Kaesong—in exchange for an equal amount of ground to be given up by the UN in central and eastern Korea. The Allies also would yield islands north of parallel 38.

The Peiping radio — apparently commenting on developments preceding the new Allied proposal—declared today that the Communists had defended Kaesong "against everything the American Eighth army could throw against it."

The day after the address Mr. Truman departs for an indefinite stay at Key West, Fla., and it was believed he felt it appropriate to lay his views on the world situation before the public before his departure.

watt hours. This compared with 7,149,458,000 the previous week and 6,562,518 a year ago.

Engineering awards were around $20,000,000 above the previous week. Coal production was the highest since last January.

Most of the high production rates were due to defense orders. In the consumer goods field, the slight improvement of September was reported continuing and there were optimistic forecasts for holiday trade.

Sales Management magazine, which surveyed the retail field, reported high Columbus Day apparel buying in many metropolitan areas as an encouraging trend.

The magazine added: "All indications still point to a Christmas sales peak that will set new records for dollar volume, if not in terms of physical units."

The report was not quite as optimistic for November. It forecast retail sales totaling $12 billion for this month, an increase of four per cent over November, 1950.

But, it added, the gain will be wholly due to the higher prices and actually represents a slight decline in unit volume.

at its worst stage," Fleischmann reported. "It will stay bad through the first half of next year, but in the second half it will ease up.

"By that time the bulk of the basic industrial expansion will be over. We'll have a shortage thereafter, but the demand will come in the areas we are now deferring—chemical plants, highways, schools, public buildings, radio stations and so on."

Without being at all specific, Presidential Secretary Joseph Short said Mr. Truman and Eisenhower have a "lot of matters" to discuss and it was thought best to do it in person. Hence, the presidential summons for Eisenhower to flyohme.

Aside from advocating the change in policy emphasis on building up a European defense force, Eisenhower is expected to make a major effort to speed up the production and delivery of supplies to western Europe from the United States.

and the cheering squad. She is also participating in numerous campus organizations, including Gamma Zeta, social sorority, Delta Psi Omega, dramatic society, and the college chorus.

A journalism major, Monroe is editor of the Pow Wow, Northeast State newspaper. He holds membership in Sigma Alpha Chi, social fraternity, Delta Psi Omega, of which he is vice-president, and Music Educators National Conference.

This season, for the first time in the eleven-year history of "Redsins," the variety show will be produced during the fall semester instead of the spring.

The student council, which sponsors the show, voted unanimously to break the tradition after Delta Psi Omega made the recommendation.

The change was considered advantageous in making it possible to include "Redskins" in the yearbook and presenting a better production than the spring semester would permit because of the crowded schedule of activities during that season.

The council, under leadership of Gene Clark, will manage publicity, advertising and business details of the revue.

James W. Parkerson, faculty adviser, requests that scripts and lists of casts be given him not later than November 7. "These scripts, which may include musical numbers, playlets, pantomimes and novelty stunts, should be limited to production length of five to 15 minutes," he said.

another honor guest.

Instantly the raiser of pigs was on his feet; "I refuse to break bread with a man who betrayed his country by buying his way into the United States senate! I shall leave at once!" In an instant he was gone.

Newspapers all over the country told of the incident and Monroe was prominent in the Associated Press headlines.

Honors seem to be coming right toward Miss Nona (Dutch) Martin. A few months ago she was elected vice - president of Pilot Clubs International, an honor that is most unusual, certainly not common way down here in Monroe. But last week another honor, this time a local one, came to this outstanding woman, when she was elected president of the Young Women's Christian Association board in Monroe.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. T. H. Scott; recording secretary, Mrs. Francis Faulk; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Underwood Fourmy; and treasurer, Mrs. H. G. Thompson.

A free lecture on a challenging subject: "Christian Science, The Practical Way to Health, Happiness and Security," will be given in the O. P. H. S. auditorium Thursday at 8 p.m. by Thomas E. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Sea Scout troop at Houma, La. is rejoicing in the possession of a 32-foot motor launch which is all their own after payment of a single dollar bill!

This launch was on the market, and the boys counted out all their worldly wealth, and there was just $25.06 in the treasury. Quite boldly one of the group went to an official of the oil firm that owned the boat for sale and offered this as purchase price. The official, amused, and interested at the boys' earnestness, asked that they give him a single dollar and the boat would be theirs. This was done and no Sea Scout troop anywhere now owns such a launch as they possess.

But they soon found that the boat required cash to keep it afloat. Their next industrious project was collection of waste paper. This now nets about $75 a week and keeps the boat in service.

Real pioneer young Americans are these boys!

We all rejoice in the return of Winston Churchill as prime minister of England. But just to make this gentleman know that we really are with him heart and soul, three men in Sicily Island (ambitious little town in Catahoula parish) expended their real cash in a Western Union personal telegram to the newly-returned official expressing their loyalty. These men were named C. S. Seal, William Peck and H. D. Penison.

Catahoula catfish will be frying Monday night, and a large group of parish sportsmen will be ready, willing and able to eat it with all the trimmings.

The Catahoula Sportsmen's League is sponsoring the fish fry, which will be held on the Harrisonburg school ground at 7 o'clock Monday night.

All fishermen and hunters who are interested in game conservation are invited to attend, and to take along their wives, children and friends.

It has a Way with Women

SOMETIMES we think that too little attention is given to the fair sex in automobile advertising.

After all, it's the woman of the house who has to do most of the shopping, which involves getting into tight places at the curb. And it's surprising what tight spots a Buick can fit into at a turn of the wheel.

It's the woman who likes complete freedom from things that it takes an engineer to operate—and a complete and utter freedom from mechanical complications is exactly what makes Dynaflow Drive* such a joy.

It's the woman who has an eye for style and fine fabrics—and a nose for economy. On both counts, a Buick is tops.

But we suspect something else. We suspect that a woman gets just as great a lift as a man from commanding this great-powered and trigger-quick bundle of vitality to bow to her will.

Here's a car to win any woman's heart—by its level-gaited stride—its willing response to her hand on the wheel—its smart style and its smart performance—its spaciousness and comfort—and its thrift.

How about taking time off, some afternoon, to boss around a Buick? It's a date that's bound to thrill you.

PUNCHLESS GREEN OF TULANE BOWS TO MAROONS, 10-7

Polovina, Sub Back, Spoils Day For Frnkamen

By Roy Steinfort

New Orleans, Nov. 3.—(AP)— Pete Polovina, a substitute halfback, kicked a fourth quarter field goal to give Mississippi State a 10-7 victory over Tulane in a drab Southeastern Conference football game today.

Marching two impotent offenses, Tulane and Mississippi State stumbled and fumbled for almost four full quarters before Polovina, a Steubenville, O., junior, broke the 7-7 deadlock.

Tulane scored in the second quarter after recovering a Maroon fumble on Mississippi State's 19-yard line. Tulane Quarterback Fred Dempsey passed to Halfback Ray Weidenbacher near the sidelines on the 10, and Weidenbacher dashed across for the Greenies' lone score. Tackle Tommy Comeaux converted.

Mississippi State scored immediately afterward when Halfback Norman Duplain took the kickoff on his own 15-yard line and raced beautifully 85 yards for a touchdown. Polovina converted.

That knotted the count and for most of the third and fourth periods it looked like the game would finish that way.

In the waning minutes of the game Mississippi State got into scoring position by driving from Tulane's 41 to the six. On fourth down the Maroons elected to try for the field goal and with Quarterback Frank (Twig) Branch holding, Polovina kicked the ball dead between the uprights to give the Maroons their second conference win this season.

Tulane, after three S. E. C. starts, is still looking for its first conference victory.

Score by quarters:

Miss. State	0	7	0	3—10
Tulane	0	7	0	0— 7

Mississippi State scoring: ouchdowns, Duplain. Conversion, Polovina. Field goal, Polovina.

Tulane scoring: Touchdowns, Weidenbacher. Conversion, Comeaux.

Stanford Indians Measure Cougars

Palo Alto, Calif., Nov. 3.—(AP)— Stanford's unbeaten Indians, aiming for the Pacific Coast Conference title and the Rose Bowl, wrote their toughest win into the record today by defeating Washington State's Cougars, 21 to 13.

Masked Johnny Bright Leads Drake To Victory

Desmoines, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Johnny Bright, the masked marvel, accounted for three touchdowns today as the Drake Bulldogs stopped previously undefeated Great Lakes, 35-20.

Bright, playing his first game since receiving a broken jaw two weeks ago, showed few ill effects of his injury and of being 10 pounds underweight because of a liquid diet. He wore a mask over his injured jaw.

New York, Nov. 3. —(AP)—Counterpoint came from far back in the slop today to win the $59,600 Empire City Handicap in the snow and rain at Jamaica Race track. Hall Of Fame was second with Auditing, third.

The son of Count Fleet, ridden by Dave Gorman and owned by C. V. Whitney, was forced to swing wide around the pack at the head of the stretch but took charge in the run to the wire to win by a length and a half.

Running the mile and three Sixteenths in 1:58 3-5, and carrying top weight of 130 pounds, Counterpoint stamped himself as the best three-year-old if not the best horse in the land.

FERRIDAY SOCKS BLOCK, 34 TO 0

Frederick Stuart Leads Bulldogs To Victory

Ferriday, La., Nov. 3.—(Special) —The Ferriday High School Bulldogs, behind their unmovable forward wall, ran over. Black High of Jonesville 34 to 0 here last night before a shivering homecoming day crowd. Halfback Frederick Stuart paced the Bulldogs attack scoring 24 of the total points for Ferriday with End Everett Westbrook booting four extra points.

Early in the first period the Bulldogs drove 41 yards for their first score, Stewart going over from the ten.

A Jonesville fourth-down gamble that failed set up the next TD from the Block 25. "Red" McNew skirted end for 12, and Stuart went over a moment later from the four. On the first play after the following kickoff, Stuart intercepted a Block aerial on the 20 and scampered to paydirt.

Bobby Marks, Carl Abel, McNew, and Charles Murray sparked a drive to the Block three from where McNew went over early in the third period.

A Marks' pass interception set up another Ferriday touchdown with McNew passing to Stuart for the payoff.

The fourth period saw the Bulldog reserves take over and they played the Bruins on even terms with Jonesville threatening near the close of the game.

Alexandria, La., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Cosmopolitan Club today announced the selection of Louisiana College and McNeese State College for the sixth annual Cosmo Bowl here Nov. 22.

The polio benefit game will be played in Bolton Field which has a capacity of 8,000.

Louisiana College, playing on its home field at nearby Pineville, defeated the Lake Charles school 27-20 on Oct. 20. The game was played under Gulf States Conference rules which barred four McNeese players who had pro baseball experience. The Cosmopolitan Club said the entire McNeese squad would be eligible for the bowl game.

Ohio State Wins On Janowicz Toe

Columbus, O., Nov. 3. —(AP)— All-America Halfback Vic Janowic booted a 14-yard fourth quarter field goal today to give Ohio State a 3 to 0 victory over Northwestern in a Western Conference game viewed by 71,089.

It was a game of missed opportunities and futile offenses by both squads and an 18-mile wind was the biggest defensive factor for each team.

Five times Northwestern surged deep into Ohio's territory but missed field goals from the 17 and the 12 and the loss of the ball on downs on the 12 and the two wrecked the Wildcats' chances.

Ohio State, which displayed a great offense a week ago in smothering Iowa, 47-21, also missed on plenty of scoring chances. Three times in the first period the Buckeyes were inside the Wildcat 30.

Purdue Easily Masters Penn State Eleven, 28-0

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Purdue broke a three-game football losing streak today by cutting up Penn State's defense with unknown sophomores and freshmen. Sophomore Max Schmaling, sub fullback, scored the first two Purdue touchdowns in the 28-0 victory.

Quarterback Dale Samuels was the only starting regular in Purdue's injury-riddled backfield. He threw two touchdown passes to Jim Whitmer, but Purdue's youngsters already had more than enough points to win.

B. U. ROUTS N. Y. U.

Boston, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Boston University's Terriers proved they deserved their role as favorites today by routing New York University, 52-6, on the soggy turf of Fenway Park as some 3,500 fans huddled in the stands.

ILLINOIS BARELY TRIPS MICHIGAN

Late Touchdown Pass Keeps Bowl Hopes Alive

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 3. —(AP)— Rose Bowl hopeful Illinois scored in the final 65 seconds on a quick eight-yard pass to defeat rugged Michigan, 7-0, in a snow storm before a capacity crowd of 71,119 in snow-powdered Memorial Stadium today.

The Illini's victory strike, capping an 83-yard march, came on a toss from Quarterback Tom O'Connell to End Rex Smith, who grabbed the pass wide open in the end zone.

It was the sixth straight win for undefeated Illinois which now is in commanding position to win both the Big Ten title and a Rose Bowl bid.

Illinois, rated third in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports experts, never advanced beyond Michigan's 22 until its payoff blitz in the closing seconds.

In capturing their third conference victory, the Illini went hammer and tong against an inspired Michigan eleven which had been undefeated in three previous league starts.

It seemed almost certain that the snow-pelted contest would end in a scoreless deadlock until the Illini suddenly caught fire to sweep to a touchdown from their own 17-yard line.

Johnny Karras, heralded Illinois halfback, was held in check by alert Michigan most of the way, but he romped 15 yards to spark the Illini's scoring drive in the longest run of the game.

After Karras' run, O'Connell flipped three passes to reach Michigan's 19. Fullback Bill Tate smashed 13 yards to the Wolverine 6.

Then O'Connell uncorked his payoff toss to Smith.

Sam Rebecca converted to give Illinois its final 7-0 verdict.

Middies Smeared By Fighting Irish

Baltimore, Nov. 3. —(AP)— Notre Dame and Navy football teams smeared each other to a standoff in the mud for 59 minutes today, but the famed Irish long distance scoring hit three times in the other minute for a 19-0 victory.

It took the Irish only 55 seconds for two touchdowns in the second quarter. Bill Barrett, senior speedball, went 74 yards on a punt return in the fourth quarter.

Navy had the full house of 44,237 chilled fans on its feet at the end of the game when it failed to crash over the goal one yard away on the last play.

Navy had only one other scoring opportunity, and it fumbled that away on the Notre Dame 10 in the third quarter.

Except for the Irish lightning scores, a fighting Navy line and the slop of Memorial Stadium combined to keep Notre Dame at bay. Navy got nowhere at all in the first half, winding up with a loss three yards. Notre Dame didn't do much better in the second half, carrying the ball past midfield only once.

Score by quarters:

Notre Dam	0	13	0	6—19
Navy	0	0	0	0— 0

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Worden, Mazur, Barrett; Conversions, Mavriades.

S. M. U. Passing Attack Backfires, Texas Steers Claim Victory, 20-13

Dick Ochoa Sparks Ground Attack For Longhorns

By Harold V. Ratliff

Dallas, Nov. 3. —(AP)—Southern Methodist's once-terrific passing attack backfired like a balky 1914 model car today and Texas rolled to a 20-13 victory to keep its hopes alive in the Southwest Conference football race.

Twice the slashing Longhorns cashed in on pass interceptions for touchdowns and they used a Methodist fumble for another.

Both of the interceptions leading to scores were off Fred Benners, the great passer who shot down Notre Dame.

A crowd of 72,000 jammed the Cotton Bowl for the S. M. U. homecoming struggle. They saw Southern Methodist very impotent in the first half. But in the third period the Methodists came alive for two quick touchdowns and it was a ball game to the bitter end.

While the Texas ironclad defense was responsible for its victory, the Longhorns also were quite terrific on offense, especialy on the ground, where big Dick Ochoa led a blistering attack.

Bobby Dillon was keyman in the Longhorn's defensive show but even he could not stop Val Joe Walker, the S. M. U. track star who plays defensive halfback for the Methodists. Walker took a punt back 92 yards for a Methodist touchdown.

Southern Methodist started out passing on virtually every down but surrendered two touchdowns in the first quarter as a result. Don Barton gathered in a Benners aerial and skipped to the Methodist 35. The Longhorns rolled easily to a touchdown. The score was on a 24-yard burst over left tackle by Gib Dawson. Then Bob Raley intercepted a Benners throw on the Texas 38, slanted 62 yards to a touchdown.

The third Texas touchdown came after a Methodist bobble. Back to kick on fourth down, Jerry Norton received a high passback was able to get off the boot, attempted to run and was piled up on the Methodist 25. Dan Page, Ochoa and Barton alternated in smashing to the touchdown. Barton made it with a two-yard plunge.

Southern Methodist scored twice with lightning quickness in the third. The first touchdown came after Hooks fell on a Dawson fumble on the Texas 42. Norton, Benton Musslewhite and Walker smashed to the seven and H. N. Russell passed over the goal line to Musslewhite. Texas got the ball on the kickoff on its 20, moved to a first down, then had to kick. Walker gathered in Adams' boot on the S. M. U. eight and ran to a touchdown.

Score by quarters:

Texas	13	7	0	0—20

'BAMA MEASURES GEORGIA, 16 TO 14

'Red' Lutz Field Goal Brings Victory Margin

Athens, Ga., Nov. 3. —(AP)— Clell Hooson threw two touchdown screen passes and Red Lutz booted a field goal today to give Alabama an exciting 16 to 14 victory over Georgia.

After trailing 7-0 at intermission, Alabama found room to maneuver in the second half and surged back to protect its reputation as a great November team. The Crimson Tide has bowed but once in November in four years.

Alabama had to overcome a brilliant individual effort by Conrad Manisera, sophomore Georgia halfback. The Lynnhurst, N. J., youngster scored both Georgia touchdowns—one a spectacular 72-yard punt return.

Manisera counted the final Georgia score in the fourth quarter by racing around end and diving over from the one.

Lutz' field goal, which provided the victory margin, traveled 21 yards.

Both Alabama touchdowns were neatly executed screen passes from Hobson to George McCain. The first climaxed a 74-yard drive in the third quarter and the second—a 21-yard effort—came after a ground drive sparked by Bobby Marlow and Tommy Lewis.

Score by quarters:

Tulsa Hurricane Sinks Oklahoma Aggies, 35-7

Stillwater, Okla., Nov. 3. —(AP)— Tulsa's Golden Hurricane, stalled in the first quarter by keyed-up Oklahoma A. and M., boomed from behind today to win, 35-7, and clinch at least a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference title.

The Aggies passed to their lone score in the first quarter but their sophomores quarterback sensation, Don Babers, was injured in the second period and they couldn't move after that.

Babers went into the game as the nation's leading passer and had completed 8 of 11 for 59 yards and one touchdown when he was knocked unconscious.

Only two weeks ago on the same field the nation's leading ground gainer, Johnny Bright of Drake, received a broken jaw.

KANSAS TRIUMPHS

BAYOU BENGALS, OLE MISS SCRAP TO 6-6 DEADLOCK

Rivals Pull Out All Stops In Vain Effort To Win

By Warren Rogers Jr.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 3. —(AP)— Louisiana State and Mississippi Universities pulled out all stops—split T, single wing, field goal tries — and wound up in a 6-6 Southeastern Conference football tie here tonight.

The teams wheezed through the first half, fumbling and drawing penalties. Then, in the second half, their offenses began to catch up with the bruising defensive work.

Fullback Leroy Labat, L. S. U.'s "Black Stallion of the Bayous," pulled perhaps the most spectacular play of the night. In the third period he burst around end, stiff arming and chopping his way across field for 23 yards and a touchdown.

But Mississippi's Rebels came back with a rush. Quarterback Jim Lear tossed to Jim Bridges, then to Showboat Boykin and the score was tied. The touchdown pass went 46 yards.

L. S. U.'s Cliff Stringfield and Mississippi's Lear both missed the extra point placement attempts.

Stringfield tried L. S. U.'s field goal in the first period. Ole Miss' Ed Lewcon followed suit in the last. Both went wide.

Pushing hard for a workable offense, L. S. U. shifted from the "T" to a single wing, very effective when used for Jim Barton's booming quick kicks. Ole Miss used the split "T" mostly with Back Lea Paslay spinning the ends for hefty runs.

It was the 39th meeting of the two teams, the first to end in a tie.

L. S. U. Guard George Tarsovic and Mississippi Center Jim Ingram had a busy night on defense. Both big and rough, they clobbered ball carriers on nearly every play.

Some 40,000 homecoming day fans shivered in the 43 degree weather.

Score by quarters:

Mississippi	0	0	6	0—6
L. S. U.	0	0	6	0—6

University of Mississippi scoring: touchdown, Boykin.

L. S. U. scoring: touchdown Lebat.

Vanderbilt Gets Moccasin Scare

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 3. —(AP)— Bill Wade fired three touchdown passes to End Ted Kirkland in the final six minutes of the first quarter today and Vanderbilt hung on for a tough 19-14 win over Chattanooga.

A chilled crowd of 13,000 saw the Moccasins take an early 7-0 lead after recovering a fumble on the 50. But after that score, the Commodores started rolling.

Wade and Hal Ledyard, the Moc's sparkling quarterback, put on a phenomenal aerial circus, throwing a total of 43 passes for 401 yards.

All the scoring came directly as a result of their artistry.

Statistically, Wade had the better record, hitting on 14 out of 28 tries to Ledyard's five completions in 15 efforts. Wade picked up 246 air yards, Ledyard 155.

Score by quarters:

Dartmouth's Last Half Show Beats Yale, 14-10

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 3.—(AP)— Two touchdowns by Gene Howard, the clincher a 55-yard run midway in the final quarter, gave Dartmouth a 14 to 10 Ivy League football triumph over Yale today.

Just when the 35th renewal in this series noted for its thrills and chills was threatening to turn out to be a dud in miserable rain and snow, Howard pulled the crowd of 10,000 out of its seats with a dazzling display.

Actually there were two different games here. Yale won the first half 10 to 0 after dominating most of the play. Dartmouth won the final half 14 to 0 but that was the pay-off.

Wisconsin Nips Indiana In Snowstorm, 6 To 0

Madison, Wis., Nov. 3. —(AP)— A 36-yard pass from Johnny Coatta to reserve Halfback Bill Hutchison gave Wisconsin a 6 to 0 win over Indiana in a driving snowstorm today.

Wisconsin had completed only two passes before the final desperation toss that Hutchinson caught in the end zone. The Badgers, tenth in the Associated Press national poll, now have won three, lost one and tied one in Western Conference play.

Quakers Stunned By Wm. And Mary

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Triple-threat Dickie Lewis led a dazzling covey of William and Mary backs to a surprising 20-12 victory over Pennsylvania today while some 12,801 rattled around cavernous Franklin Field in frosty discomfort.

Rocking favored Penn with his brilliant T-quarterbacking and coffin corner punting, the 185-pound senior uncovered a fine set of backs in Ed Mioduszewski, Ed Weber, Frank Lipski and Charlie Sumner.

William and Mary never lost charge of this game from the first quarter. The Indians fully avenged a 46-0 whacking in their only previous meeting with Penn.

NORTHEAST AWAITS SOUTHEAST OKLA. VISIT

SAVAGES CLASH WITH REDSKINS HERE SATURDAY

Indians Expect To Be In Good Shape For Invasion

The Northeast Louisiana State Indians, after two straight open dates, swing back into action on the gridiron front next Saturday night when they tangle with Southeast Oklahoma State Savages at Brown Field here.

By the time the Oklahoma invaders get here three weeks will have passed since Coach James L. Malone's Tribe mauled Ouachita College, 66 to 0, but the Redskins got in a full week of gruelling workouts last week, have more hard work ahead on the practice field this week and expect to be near full strength for Saturday's battle.

Yesterday afternoon southeast Oklahoma marched over Southwest Oklahoma State, 33 to 6, and the Tribe is looking forward to a tough scramble. After Southwest Oklahoma, Northeast will have only Louisiana College left on their slate for a game here November 17 unless the reports that the Indians are seeking to add one more game materalize.

Although Northeast has crowded the past week with good workouts, Coach Malone is afraid the long lull in the schedule might be a disadvantage.

"The boys are looking great," Malone declared, "but I'm afraid the two weeks' layoff might have been too much. We're just hoping we haven't gone stale. Barring injuries during the week's work, however, we should have our offensive and defensive units in their best shape of the season by next Saturday."

The wet, cold weather of the past few days, first weather of the type for the Tribe this year, failed to chill the Indians' steam in practice grinds.

"Red" Nix, the Oak Grove boy who has been confined to defensive halfback duty this year, continues to look good in Malone's offensive unit for a change. He has been running the past week with a backfield combination of Vince Zappone, Press Berry, and Mark Boatright.

W. A. "Dub" Rush, nursing a hand injury, and Ed Plonsky, who suffered a hand fracture a few weeks ago, were being allowed to sit-out contact work, but both are expected to be ready to go again in the hard work tomorrow.

Northeast will be meeting the Durant, Okla., team for the first time. Teams from Oklahoma, however, have appeared regularly on the Tribe's slate the past few years, including the Cameron Aggies, Eastern Oklahoma A. and M. and Poteau.

S. L. I. Spoils Homecoming For Tech As Visiting Bulldogs Win, 34 to 7

Brown - To - Bates Pass Saves Ruston From Shutout

Ruston, Nov. 3. (Special) —Just as Saturday's shadows were beginning to add a darkening effect upon Louisiana Tech's homecoming festivities, the local Bulldogs managed a touchdown to save themselves from a blanking in a game which Southwestern Louisiana Institution won, 34-7.

Despite cold weather, the attendance was estimated at about 6,000 fans.

Prior to the opening of the game, the winning three floats in the homecoming parade passed in front of the stands. The Phi Mu sorority won first place. The Wesley Foundation was second and the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity ranked third.

Southwestern scored a touchdown in the first quarter on a 45-yard run by Halfback F. G. Mixon. Kenneth Sweeney booted the extra point. Previously, an 18-yard pass from Jack Herron to Bill Higginbotham, carrying S. L. I. to the 50, figured in the proceedings.

Soon afterwards, the visitors scored again, with Herron passing to John Falgout, who took the ball and sped 27 yards to cross. Sweeney kicked the extra tally but a penalty was assessed Southwestern for backfield in motion. On the second try, Sweeney missed and the count was 13-0 in favor of the Lafayette eleven as the first quarter ended.

In the second quarter Southwestern's Charles Gaudin received a long pass from Herron on Tech's 40 and raced on to pay dirt. Sweeney added the point from placement.

Later in the second stanza, a Herron -to -Mixon pass scored the visiting Bulldogs from Tech's 19-yard line, following a fumble by the local Canines. Sweeney converted, giving S. L. I. a lead of 27-0 at intermission.

With the Tech band and Blue Jackets staging a colorful "T" formation for a back-drop, the homecoming queen, Jeri Lane Thompson of Cotton Valley, was crowned by the Tech president, R. L. Ropp, during the halftime activities. Attendants to the queen were Patsy Hollis of Bernice, Catherine Sibille of Iowa, La., Allice Perry of Perryville, Katie Smith of Bernice, Carolyn Hargrove of West Monroe, Peggy Edmodson of Forest, Betty Sue Britt of Minden and Betty Tucker of Bernice.

Representing the Tech class of 1905, Mrs. Epsey Bond Cunningham, resident dormitory counsellor at Tech, was recognized as the member of the earliest class attending the homecoming program. President Ropp presented to Mrs. Cunningham a gift of four Wedgewood china plates depicting Tech buildings.

Back in the ball game in the third quarter, the Techsters threatened, only to see a goal-ward march bog down on the 10-yard line. Jimmy Brown passed to Joe Strother to advance the local Bulldogs to the S. L. I. 33 and then pitched to Gene Yarbrough to the 14. Yarbrough picked up four yards through the line but there Tech lost out on downs.

Early in the final quarter, after Tech had punted to its own 25-yard line, Herron tossed to Gaudin for Southwestern's fifth touchdown. Sweeney annexed the point from placement.

Presently, the Techsters advanced to Southwestern's 17 but again lost on downs. Aerial plays from Brown to Kenneth Bates highlighted the movement.

With three minutes left to play, Gene Knecht, Tech back, got off a 41-yard run from his 20 to the S. L. I. 39 to set up a touchdown march. Brown passed to Bates on the 30 and followed with another heave to Bates, who snagged the ball in the end zone to score. Ed Michael kicked the extra points.

Crowville Downs LaSalle, 19 To 13

Olla, Nov. 2. —(Special) — Crowville High School's Bulldogs managed to whip the LaSalle Tigers, 19 to 13, Friday night, coming from behind in the first quarter after the Tigers had returned the opening kickoff for a touchdown.

A few moments later, however, the Bulldog's Marion Guy got loose for two fast touchdowns to go ahead 13 to 6. Guy made his first touchdown on a 26-yard run, but the try for the extra point, by Lewis Ray Sikes, was blocked.

His second touchdown was from the six-yard line, still in the first quarter, and this time Sike's kick was good.

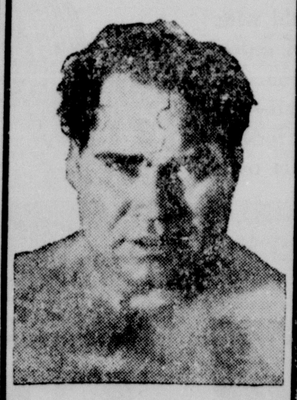

After scoreless second and third quarters LaSalle scored again on a pass play and made the extra point, tying the game 13-13. Guy, the all-around outstanding player of the game, took the ball over again for the final score from the two-yard line. Sike's extra point kick was again blocked and the game ended 19-13 for the Bulldogs.

VOLUNTEERS FIND TAR HEELS EASY

Lauricella Sparks 27-0 Win For Tennessee Mates

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 3. —(AP)— Hank Lauricella, Tennessee's potent little butcher knife, passed and flashed North Carolina into submission 27-0 today to extend the winning streak of the nation's No. 1 football team to 16 games.

The 169-pound ball handling wizzard from New Orleans, La., scored two touchdowns, passed for another and set up a fourth during his limited appearance in the first and third quarters.

One of the touchdowns was a spectacular 27-yard sweep around his right end in the first period when he weaved his way goalward behind incisive blocking.

The senior field general, a strong candidate for All-America honors, played only half the game.

Rocked back on their heels for most of the cold, sunny afternoon, the frustrated Tar Heels, beaten in five of their seven games, roused themselves for two menacing gestures just before the final gun.

They traveled 66 yards to the 10 where Tennessee's vicious defense rose up to swallow the threat. A few moments later they rolled down to the 10 again, with first down and goal to go.

Three line plays moved the Tar Heels to the five, but that was as far as they could go. A desperation fourth-down pass failed.

Lauricella conceived and executed the touchdowns with such ease that the game took on a ridiculous aspect for the 41,000 spectators, including the United States and British Ryder Cup golf teams.

L. D. Meyer Fired As Dallas Pilot

Dallas, Nov. 3. —(AP)— L. D. Meyer was fired today as manager of the Dallas club in the Texas League.

Meyer, who piloted the Eagles to third place and a Shaughnessy play-off berth the past season, was given his outright release by Owner Dick Burnett.

Meyer said he might get a job with the front office of the Cleveland Indians.

Burnett said he was releasing Meyer in order to give the next general manager a voice in selecting the skipper. He also said he wanted to give Meyer enough time to make a new baseball connection.

Bobby Goff resigned recently as general manager to take a similar post with Wichita Falls of the Big State League.

The Dallas News said there were reports Burnett might bring back Jimmie Adair as manager or promote Hal Van Pelt, who managed his Gainesville farm club last year. Adair formerly managed here but last season was a coach with the Chicago White Sox.

TROJANS THUMP HAPLESS CADETS

Pacific Coast's Power Romps To 28-6 Win

New York, Nov. 3.—(AP)— Frank Gifford and his bruising Southern California teammates surmounted miserable weather conditions to trounce Army's poor but honest Cadets, 28 to 6, before a corporal's guard of 16,508 shivering fans at Yankee Stadium today.

The powerful Trojans, undefeated in collegiate play this season and No. 1 choice to represent the coast in the Rose Bowl, spotted the post-scandal West Point team a quick first period touchdown and then came back in the snow and slush to smash out a convincing victory in which Army did not earn a first down.

Snow came down steadily through the first three periods and parts of the field were so heavy with water, a sea lion would have felt at home. But for the wretched footing the Trojans horde of hard-running backs almost certainly would have rung up a much higher count.

T. C. U. Takes Over Lead In Tough Southwest With Win Over Baylor

Christians Hand Bears First Defeat, 20 To 7

By Dave Cheavens

Waco, Tex., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Texas Christian's giants killers nailed down the leadership in the tough Southwest Conference here today, knocking Baylor from the ranks of the undefeated by a convincing 20 to 7 score.

Baylor's tricky Larry Isbell was great but not great enough. He was eclipsed for the day by T. C. U. sophomore Ray McKown, another genius on the offense.

A major contributor to the Texas Christian victory was a defensive left halfback, Keith Flowers, who dealt the Baylor backfield misery all afternoon. The entire T. C. U. defense was in top form in chilling Baylor, ranked eighth in the nation last week.

Interceptions of two of Isbell's passes set up two Texas Christian touchdowns. The Christians scored in the second, with McKown carrying; in the third with Bobby Jack Floyd; in the fourth with Malvin Fowler carrying. Isbell ran for Baylor's only score in the second period.

Baylor's first touchdown was clearly an Isbell march. Baylor started on the T. C. U. 49 and drove all the way—all but 13 of it on the ground. Jerry Coody and Don Carpenter helped on a series of short lunges, but a 13-yard pass from Isbell to Harold Riley was the key play to put the Bears on the nine.

On the next play, Isbell faked a pass and sneaked across near the flag for the score.

Texas Christian then matched Baylor with a 50-yard touchdown drive and it was McKown eating up the yards. He started it with a nine-yard pass to Bobby Jack Floyd. On the next play McKown gobbled up 22 yards over left guard on a sneak. Then two plays later he went 15 through the baffed Baylor line and secondary to score. Flowers' place kick was good.

An Isbell pass try deep in Baylor territory backfired and led to Texas Christian's second touchdown early in the third period. Wayne Martin intercepted on the Baylor 19, and two plays laster McKown, after being thrown for one loss, passed 19 yards to Wilson George on the Bayor five.

The Baylor line was tough but not tough enough. Bobby Jack Floyd pounded through on two plays to the two, then slanted off tackle for the score. Flowers' try for the extra point was good again.

Fowler ran standing up across the Baylor goal line late in the fourth period for the Christians' final score.

Curtis Brothers Go After Revenge In Return Bout With Steele, Cronin

Relay Scramble Heads Tuesday Mat Card At Kallio's

Jack and George Curtis, screaming for blood after their defeat at the hands of Jack "Stinger" Steele and Pat "Big Boy" Cronin, will take on the villainous pair again this Tuesday night at Gus Kallio's Arena.

Steele, from Sioux City, Iowa, and Cronin, from Jackson, Miss., thoroughly enraged the Curtis brothers and the crowd last week when they ganged up on Jack to win the deciding fall, strangely enough just as the referee had his back turned.

The crowd seemed to think that the referee, Al Olsen, who is an old wrestling partner of the villainous team, deliberately turned his back when Jack Curtis got an unbreakable hold on Steele, allowing Cronin to leap into the ring and knock Jack cold.

The fans raised quite a fuss with the referee after Steele had pinned Jack, who was unconscious on the floor, and Olsen counted him out. They surged up around the ringside, speaking in threatening tones toward Olsen who begged off with the excuse that he had to escort George Curtis from the ring. The crowd didn't like it but they eventually let him go.

As the match was patently a bald-faced bad deal, Kallio, in the absence of wrestling Commissioner Dave Silverstein, held up the purses until this Tuesday night when the winners take the lion's share of both purses. Kallio also stipulated that there would be a different referee, although one has not yet been chosen.

Actually, however, Steele and Cronin put up a good fight all the way during the match in the face of strong opposition from the crowd. The villainous pair admittedly used a variety of not-quite orthodox holds, but then again, so did the Curtis boys.

The Curtis brothers won the second fall largely through the use of their fists, slugging Steele unmercifully on top of the head while he was in a head-lock and slugging Cronin indiscriminately every time they could reach him. Jack, after rubbing his knuckles on the floor and looking to the crowd for encouragement, battered Cronin every time he got a chance.

Neither side used many genuine wrestling holds, the only difference being that Cronin and Steele started the whole business of villainous tricks and the crowd was wild for the Crutis' to retaliate. Less use of fists and more use of wrestling on either side would have made the match a much better deal all the way through.

However, the Curtis brothers will get their second chance Tuesday night and perhaps things will go differently for Steele and Cronin.

There will be two short time limit falls between opponents from the different tag teams in addition to the main event, which will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win.

SOPH SPEARHEADS PORKER TRIUMPH

McHan Leads Arkansas Over Texas Aggies, 33-21

Fayetteville, Ark., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Lamar McHan, a big sophomore who didn't think he would make the varsity in September, did everything a football quarterback could do this afternoon to lead Arkansas to a stirring 33-21 victory over Texas A. and M.

The 190-pound blond from Lake Village, Ark., ran for two touchdowns, passed for another, netted 100 yards on 26 carries, completed four of six passes for 74 yards, punted for a 35-yard average in a strong wind and ran the Razorbacks split T attack flawlessly from start to finish.

This was the lad who asked Arkansas Coach Otis Douglas two months ago to let him drop out of the university for seasoning at a junior college.

Douglas talked the youngster out of it. McHan earned a starting role in the fourth game of the season and today made a strong bid for all-star honors.

As they have done in every game this year, the Aggies struck paydirt first against an Arkansas team which had four first stringers out of action with injuries. A 41-yard punt return by Yale Lary set it up and Glenn Lippman went over from the one.

Darrow Hooper made the first of three conversions, but the Aggie lead was temporary.

McHan started propelling the Arkansas downfield. Before the first quarter ended, Buddy Sutton drove through right guard for the tieing touchdown.

Then McHan, who was described by A. and M. Coach Ray George as "terrific, simply terrific," shot a 33-yard touchdown pass to another sophomore back, Jack Troxell. The next time he got his hands on the ball McHan electrified the crowd of 20,500 with a 58-yard run that pushed the Razorbacks edge to 20-7.

A. and M. tallied just before half time on a 10-yard pass from Ray Graves to Hooper. The Aggies took a 21-20 lead in the third quarter on a beautiful 56-yard journey by Lippman.

But McHan and the fighting line which was opening the holes were far from through. They began the fourth period by marching 58 yards, with Sutton scoring his second touchdown from the three. Arkansas used up the last eight minutes with a 77-yard drive capped by McHan's two-yard plunge.

Score by quarters:

Princeton Tigers Take 19th In Row

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Dick Kazmaier refused to let mud, snow and a surprisingly stubborn Brown defense stop him today and Princeton preserved its all-winning record with a 12 to 0 victory over Brown.

Kazmaier scored both the Tiger touchdowns in the snowy first quarter and completely dominated the uncomfortable show, watched by about 5,000 frigid spectators.

The victory, sixth of the season for the Tigers, rated the No. 6 team in the Associated Press' national ranking poll, was Princeton's 19th in a row over three seasons. This equalled the all-time Tiger winning record, made by the 1886-87 teams.

It snowed all through the first half after raining for more than 24 hours and the field was a mess of gooey mud after the first few plays.

Score by quarters:

Brown	0	0	0	0	— 0
Princeton	12	0	0	0	—12

Princeton scoring: Touchdowns, Kazmaier 2.

ELEVEN FOR BISONS

Lewisburg, Pa., Nov. 3. —(AP)—Bucknell University's Bisons parlayed three breaks and a long run into a 28-7 victory over Temple University today in snow-covered Memorial Stadium to stretch their unbeaten string to 11 games. Halfback Brad Myers plunged over for three scores, making his touchdown total 13 for the season.

AUBURN PUNCHES PAST WILDCATS

Plainsmen Too Much For Louisiana College Team

Auburn, Ala., Nov. 3. —(AP)—Three recovered fumbles and two intercepted passes accounted for the bulk of the scoring today as Auburn powered its way to a 49-0 victory over tiny Louisiana College.

It was the biggest score rolled up by a Tiger team since the 52-0 win over Southwest Louisiana in 1945.

Louisiana College billed a nifty passing attack staring backs Wesley Dyer and Jerry McKown on the passing end and Little All-America Bernard Callendar in the receiving role, but it wasn't enough to overcome the Tigers, unrelenting attack.

A Wildcat fumble gave Auburn its first score less than three minutes after the opening kickoff. Tackle Bobby Griffin fell on Fullback Bill Smelley's miscue on the Louisiana 32 and Tiger Fullback Herman Howard went over from the two five plays later.

Griffin recovered another fumble in the second quarter and Fullback Homer Williams, nursing a leg injury, dashed 40 yards to score. Later in the period Williams went over again from the five after Wildcat Back A. J. Cicardo dropped a punt on the seven. Just before halftime, Back Charles Littles grabbed one of McKown's aerials and set up another touchdown, Charles Hattaway making the score.

Freshman End Jerry Elliott intercepted another of McKown's aerials and set up another Kown's passes in the last period and scampered 32 yards to score. Speedy Jackie Creel, 137-pound freshman back accounted for another touchdown with a 68-yard run and Back Herb Jordan still another with Buck from the five.

With but 10 seconds remaining, Elliott caught Quarterback Ted-Bullock behind his goal line for a safety.

CAMPANELLA NINE TAKES EXHIBITION

Touring Major Leaguers Beat Negro Americans, 4-2

Willie Mays two-run homer in the fourth inning clinched a 4-2 victory for Roy Campanella's major league All - Stars over the Negro American League stars in a chilly exhibition game here yesterday afternoon at Legion Memorial Stadium. A paying crowd of 1,434 braved the adverse weather conditions to see the game.

Mays, outfielder for the New York Giants' National League championship club, got a 372-foot poke over the left field fence with Don Newcombe, pitching ace of the Brooklyn Dodgers, on base. It was the longest ball to be hit out of the local park, the ball clearing the fence near the Peacock's Jewelry clock at the left of the scoreboard.

Newcombe, who played first base and pitched the last inning, led the hitting attack with a double and two singles. Lem Hooker of the Canadian Provincal League, pitching for Campanella's outfit, allowed only six hits, while Sammie Williams, hurling for the Negro league aces, turned in a nine-hitter.

The two clubs moved on immediately for Natchez, Miss., where they played a night game last night. This afternoon they play at New Orleans.

The Campanella's got their opening wedge in the first inning when Mays walked, advanced as Hank Thompson, New York Giant outfielder, walked. The runners moved around on "Suitcase" Simpson's long fly to center, and Mays scored when Campanella flied to center.

The Negro Americans tied it up in the third as Williams went all the way to second on a bad throw to first by Thompson, Campanella's third baseman. A single by Larry Cunningham scored Williams.

Then came Mays' blast with Newcombe aboard in the fourth. Newcombe had singled. The Campanella's scored again in the fifth after two were out when Pearson, chattel of the Boston Braves, singled, took second on an error, and scored on a Newcombe single.

Singles by Cunningham, Eddie Brooks and "Curley" Williams brought the Negro American Leaguers their final run.

Parilli Spirals Sink Hurricanes

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Kentucky's Babe Parilli tossed three touchdown passes today to pace a 32-0 football victory over Miami, pulling him within nine scoring heaves of his own national record.

The Babe passed for 23 touchdowns last year. Today's production gave him 14 for the year with three games to play.

He was the master of an easier-than-expected situation in which the Kentucky offense rolled at will and the defense stopped the Floridians' attack as cold as the 28-degree weather. Miami finished with a net seven yards rushing and 15 passing.

The Kentucky Babe twice pitched to End Steve Meilinger and once to Halfback Ed Hamilton in penetrating the pass defense rated third nationally. He passed to Emory Clark to set up another score and Kentucky stayed on the ground for its fifth tally.

Score by quarters:

Uclans Rub Shine Off Golden Bears

Los Angeles, Nov. 3.—(AP)— The U. C. L. A. football team blasted some more shine off the glittering Golden Bears of California today, upsetting the heavily favored visitors, 21-7, in one of the nation's biggest surprises.

Led by a sensational sophomore tailback, Paul Cameron, thrice beaten U. C. L. A. handed the big brother Bears their second setback of the season. It also was Cal's second loss in 41 regular season contests stretching back to 1947.

Outplaying the bigger, power laden Bears in every department, and gaining revenge for their coach, Red Sanders, for the 35-0 walloping inflicted on them last year, U. C. L. A. broke a 7-7 deadlock in the third quarter and clinched the decision with a third touchdown in the final period.

DUKE EARNS TIE WITH ENGINEERS

Favored Georgia Tech Stalemated, 14 To 14

Atlanta, Nov. 3. —(AP)— Unbeaten Georgia Tech relaxed for a moment when victory looked won in the final quarter today and Duke used the lapse to score a startling 14-14 tie.

Tech was the nation's fifth ranked team in the Associated Press poll.

The game, rough but clean, ended with about 400 fans and players on the field. The tension packed stands partially emptied when a Tech back was tackled roughly by a Duke man on the final play of the game. It was a legal play.

A quick witted public address announcer called for the national anthem and when the Star Spangled Banner was completed the crowd had calmed, and left the stadium in an orderly fashion.

Tech was a 15-point favorite to win its seventh consecutive game.

A 125-man delegation from Miami's Orange Bowl was in the stands but what effect the tie score might have on Tech's selection of a New Year's Day Orange Bowl team was unknown.

A Tech homecoming crowd of 36,000 had leaned back in the fourth quarter when Tech looked safely home for its seventh victory. The score was 14-7 and Tech had been going great.

But then Quarterback Darrell Crawford elected to pass and he will never finish regretting it. As it had been doing all day, Duke's rushing line poured through on little Crawford and he had to throw as best he could.

Dud Hager of Duke caught the pass instead of a Techster. He took the ball on his 15 and ran to Tech's 35. Worth Lutz passed to Blaine Earon, Jack Kistler punched at Tech's line and on the sixth play after the interception, Lutz scored from the two.

Ray Green got his second conversion and that tied the score 14-all.

The Boys of Woodcraft Sportsmen's Club, sponsored for the youth of the city by the Woodmen of the World, took time out from hunting and fishing for a visit through the historic national park at Vicksburg, Miss., last Sunday, and also a Mississippi river excursion on the launch "Roberta."

Those attending were James Butler, Shelby Aulds, Raymond Horne, Larry Cash, Carl McMillian, "Sonny" Odom, Morris King, Pete Ford, Lon Bass, J. B. Bailey, Arthur Craig, Jerry Pratt, Jimmy Edministon, Jerry Ford, Joe Ford, Thomas King, Jimmie Purdy, Stanley Wilds, Doyle Screpetis, Tommy Pappas, Richard Grant, James Farmer, Glen Harrelson, R. J. Browning, Billy Beasley, and Bobby Beasley. They were accompanied by George Screpetis, club director, and Mrs. Screpetis, and Clyde Carmauche, assistant director, and Mrs. Carmauche.

Terps Overpower Missouri, 35 To 0

College Park, Md., Nov. 3. —(AP)—Unbeaten Maryland, powered by a ground attack which gained 350 yards on a sloppy field, rolled to a 35-0 football victory over Missouri today for its sixth consecutive win of 1951.

Running plays accounted for four touchdowns engineered by the nation's fourth ranking collegiate team, but a 101-yard fourth quarter runback of a pass interception by freshman Joe Horning supplied the big thrill for the homecoming crowd of 23,000.

Sophomore Chester Hanulak scored twice on end runs of 32 and 21 yards. Quarterback Jack Scarbath, whose deceptive handling of Maryland's split T attack kept Missouri reeling, scored the other two on one-yard sneaks.

Score by quarters:

Missouri	0	0	0	0	—0
Maryland	7	7	14	7	—35

Maryland scoring: touchdowns, Scarbath 2, Hanulak 2, Horning. Conversions, Decker 5.

FULLER CHARGES

once. When several men came and separated us, Fuller had me by a "jui-jitsu" hold, bending my fingers back, so that I was nearly on the ground. The only injuries received by me are sprained fingers, resulting from this hold.

"I did not curse Fuller.

"My brother, George Trousdale, did not run around the corner, and did not say "Don't knock him down again."

"Neither my brother nor I were armed. No one, to my knowledge, made a movement to indicate that he had a gun.

"After Fuller made the statement at the board meeting that someone had offered him money to vote for some candidate for superintendent, and that some crooked work was going on, I felt it my duty to report the statements to the district attorney for investigation, which I did on that day by letter. You publicized that letter.

"On the next day, Thursday, Fuller saw Mr. Fudickar, the district attorney, and denied having made such statements. He told Mr. Fudickar, however, that I had at one time offered to "feather his nest" if he, Fuller, would vote to oust Avants. He stated that he would issue a statement in a few days.

"Mr. Fudickar wrote me, asking for more detailed information on what Fuller had said at the meeting, and I, on Friday morning, write Fudickar, outlining what had transpired. I also suggested to Fudickar that he check with the newspaper reporter for a more accurate statement, since she had taken down the statements. I took this letter to Mr. Fudickar personally.

"It was at this time that Mr. Fudickar informed me of Fuller's accusation against me. I told Mr. Fudickar I thought that Fuller believed he was being investigated instead of the person offering the bribe, and that if Fuller would meet me in Mr. Fudickar's office, he would retract such a statement about me. I have always felt that if a man makes an untrue statement about another, he should be confronted with the statement as soon as possible.

"After returning to my office and giving the matter some thought, I decided to ask Mr. Fudickar to go with me to Fuller's home. He agreed, and we drove out to his home that afternoon. Mrs. Fuller told us that Rayville was in town and would be at the trade school that night.

"Upon returning to town, several attempts were made to locate Fuller so that I could meet him in the presence of the district attorney, but they were unsuccessful. I then told Mr. Fudickar that I would try to see Fuller at the school that night. It was agreed that I should take someone with me as a witness to what was said.

"I called my brother, George Trousale, and we drove to the school at about 7:30. There were several cars parked around the school, and we parked by the side of Mulhearn's Funeral Home (of no particular significance). I asked my brother to wait in the car, stating that I would get Fuller and bring him to the car for our talk.

"I wish to emphasize that we were not armed, and had no intention of provoking a fight. I simply desired to tell Fuller that he was not under investigation, that no one was "after" him, and that he ought to retract the untrue statement he had made about me.

"I tried to open the door to the classroom, but it appeared to be locked. Fuller was standing near the door, and I beckoned to him. He opened the door partially, and I asked him to come out for a few minutes to talk. Fuller said he would not come out, but would meet me at the district attorney's office with his lawyer. I asked him why he thought he needed a lawyer, telling him that he was not under investigation, but only the person who had offered him money.

"Fuller replied that he had never stated that anyone offered him money. I then reminded Fuller that he had, at the meeting, first said that someone had "laid money in his hand," and that I had cautioned him about such a statement. Fuller then stated that he had said, at the meeting, that someone had offered to "feather his nest." I then told Fuller that Mr. Fudickar had informed me of his charge against me, and that the charge was untrue. Fuller asked whether I was calling him a liar, and I said that I was.

"Fuller came out of the door, swinging, and we clinched. He hit me two glancing blows, and then applied his "jui-jitsu" hold. My brother heard the scuffling, as did those in the classroom, and they came up. I do not believe that my brother hit Fuller, but he did catch his arm. After we were separated, my brother stood between Fuller and me.

"Fuller then said that no one could call him a liar. I replied that I had, and that it still went. Fuller then said that he was not afraid of me, to which I replied that he should not be, since I weighed 138, and asked him what he weighed. He did not reply. That ended the encounter.

"There is absolutely no truth in Fuller's statement that I offered to 'feather his nest' if he would vote against Avants. Had I known that a fight would take place, I would not have gone to Fuller in this manner. I believed that Fuller lacked understanding of the situation, and that he had made his charge "to fight back." I still believe this is the case.

"I have asked the district attorney's office to make a full and complete investigation into all of Fuller's statements, including his malicious charge against me."

DEATH OF GIRL

ucators National Conference, in which she held the local chapter presidency, the Music Club, College Choir and Wesley Foundation.

She gained added distinction by continuing to receive the highest rating in auditions of the National Piano Guild.

During the summer of 1950 she resumed her piano study under Mrs. Allbritton, and appeared in a piano and organ concert at Northeast State.

On the university campus Miss Rogers continued as a piano major and a student of organ. She was presented in a piano recital for the bachelor's degree, and later she appeared in a full-length organ recital.

Last spring came one of the highlights of her experiences when she participated in a program of contemporary music by playing an organ number considered unusually difficult.

Music activities also included membership in the university chorus and presentation of programs over WBJO and other radio stations.

She was also interested in religious work and had been a representative on the student council while she was an undergraduate.

CLAIMS GERMANS

that, "despite strong Democratic developments in the past six years, there are certain disquieting signs in Germany."

"The small Neo-Fascist groups that have emerged are evidence that some Germans still subscribe to the barbaric principles of national socialism (Nazism)," he said.

"Here and there posts are held by former Nazis. Some former officers are talking in the spirit of obsolete militarism. Certain officials and party leaders are trying to gain support by cheap attacks on the Allies.

"In spite of these developments, the time has come for the German people to assume the responsibility for their own future. . .and to achieve equal status with the other free nations of Europe.

"With the exception of certain rights we must maintain in connection with our troops in Germany and with the exposed position of west Germany and Berlin vis - a - vis Russia, we are prepared to relinquish remaining occupation controls."

CAMELLIA GARDEN CLUB HAS OCTOBER MEETING IN THE HOME OF MRS. W. A. CORNETT

The Camellia Garden Club was entertained recently in the home of Mrs. W. A. Cornett, with Mrs. Earl Vigg as cohostess.

The meeting was called to order by the club president, Mrs. William Hochstetler. Reports from the committees were given and the club correspondence read. After a short business sessions, Mrs. Hochstetler introduced Mrs. W. W. Webb who spoke on "mums".

Mrs. Webb brought out that mums or chrysanthemums were introduced to America from Japan by Commodore Perry in 1850. They grow in any soil that isn't too frim. For best results, use barnyard fertilizer and work well into the bed, which should have good drainage. Plants should be put out between June 1st to June 10th and should be sprayed about every ten days and watered once a week.

Mrs. Ola Mae Passman then gave the horticulture report for the month. Her suggestions for this season were to rake fallen leaves into composed heads or into the flower beds; plant winter grass; water plants thoroughly before cold or freezing weather; plant bulbs, Iris, calla lilies, poppies, narcissus, larkspur, phlox and other spring blooming seeds at this time.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following guests and members: Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Mrs. J. E. Thurmon, Mrs. C. M. Waggoner, and Mrs. Thomas Van Fossen.

Members present at the meeting were Mrs. E. N. Craven, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, Mrs. William Hoschstetler. Mrs. Cecil Jones, Mrs. J. C. Leath, Mrs. Paul Malikowski Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Olla Mae Passman, Mrs. H. T. Poulan, Mrs. John H. Paylor, Mrs. J. B. Renaud, Mrs. Carl Stevenson, Mrs. Earl Vigg. Mrs. J. Baird, Mrs. J. R. News From The Public Library

This year is the seventy-fifth anniversary of the existence of the American Library Association and it is being celebrated over the entire nation. As the anniversary theme the officers of the association chose the subject "The American Heritage in Times of Crisis." Last week the Louisiana State Library with the cooperation of the L. S. U. Library School held a book festival at the university centered around the American heritage theme. Three members of the staff of the Ouachita Parish Public Library attended this festival, Miss Frances Flanders, librarian, Miss Lucy Moore, West Monroe librarian and Mrs. J. B. Landreaux. We all came home inspired with new zeal in interesting the people of Ouachita parish in the heritage of our country. A nation is the sum of all the people, all the events, all the ideas which have gone into its making. In order to understand where we are going we must know where we have been. In order to understand the present and plan for the future, we must have an appreciation of our country's past and the forces that have molded it.

On the program of the book festival there were several outstanding speakers. Mr. William Watkins of Laurel, Miss. spoke twice. Mr. Watkins is a scholar and it is a pleasure to hear his wonderful choice of words. At one session he spoke about "Trends in contemporary fiction with emphasis on William Faulkner." He even aroused an interest in Faulkner in those who did not care for his works at all. At another session he spoke on the subject of "Reassessment of the American Tradition." This talk had much inspiring thought in it. Miss Elizabeth Riley, children's editor of Thomas Y. Crowell Company gave two excellent talks which explained many of the features of the publishing business of which the public is not aware.

Another speaker of great interest was Mr. Frank H. Wardlaw, director of the University of Texas Press. He explained the function of the university presses in a most entertaining manner.

Of special interest was the showing of nine different films which are the property of the state library and which may be borrowed by the local libraries for the use of their patrons. We hae been borrowing films from the state library since the establishment of their film collection two years ago, but I had never seen any of them. These nine films, all pertaining to the American heritage, were absolutely wonderful. They are 16mm sound films and some of them are in color. My favorite of all was "Give Me Liberty" which showed the life of Patrick Henry in color. If you need a film for a program, be sure to contact your local librarian. It costs you nothing except the return postage to the state library.

Since this is the American heritage year we hope that many people will be interested in reading books which explain our heritage. There are many older books as well as new ones on this subject. Have you ever read "The Epic Of America" by James Truslow Adams or "John Brown's Body" by Stephen Vincent Benet. These are two books that every American should read. A fascinating new book which is also a background book is "Liberty and Property" by R. V. Coleman. This book gives a fascinating picture of the struggle of the American colonies to be free from England. If you are interested in the details of the everyday life of our ancestors, be sure to read, "The Way Our People Lived" by W. E. Woodward.

There are a number of fascinating biographies of Americans who have contributed much to our country. "John Adams And The American Revolution" by C. S. Bowen is an outstanding picture of the life of a man who did much to secure our liberty from England. This book won the Pulitzer prize in history this spring. "Paul Revere And The World He Lived In" by Esther Forbes is a colorful and readable biography of a man and a period. "The Peabody Sisters Of Salem" by Louise Tharp is a charming story of three sisters who contributed much to the important age of American letters.

There are a number of books which deal with America from a modern viewpoint, some of these books are a few years old and some are new. Among the older ones deserving of special notice are the fine poem "My Country" by Russell Davenport, and "The Republic" by Charles A. Beard. "Living Ideas In America" by H. S. Commanger has just been published by Harper and Bros. It is an excellent collection of basic writings both old and new, which describe and interpret the American idea. "U. S. A.: The Permanent Revolution" by the editors of Fortune magazine is an eloquent and enthusiastic book describing the new meanings of America. "The American People" by Gerald W. Johnson is a challenging re-examination of the basic principles on which this country was founded and an evaluation of them in the light of today's problems. "This I Do Belive" by David Lilienthal is a moving testament of faith in democracy. This is your country and it is your function to keep it great. We are threatened today by forces without our nation, but also by forces within it. If you have a genuine love of country you will want to read about it and encourage others to do so The books mentioned above are all available at the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

Mrs. Rodney Toups To Represent Louisiana At N. F. I. P. Conference

Mrs. Rodney D. Toups of New Orleans will represent Louisiana at the seventh annual conference of State Advisors on Women's Activities of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, to be held in Boston, Mass., from November 5th through 9th, it was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the March of Dimes organization.

Women from 48 states and Alaska will attend the five day meeting to review the growth of polio problems across the country and initiate early planning for stepped up volunteer participation in the enlarged 1952 March of Dimes, Mr. O'Connor stated. The drive will open on January 2, two weeks earlier than usual, and extend through January 31st.

Because the march of polio has outstripped the March of Dimes in recent years, the doubled drive is mandatory, Mr. O'Connor stated. Continuation of essential research must be financed, he said, while meeting the heavy costs of care for a staggeringly high caseload.

Means and methods of accelerating volunteer services to polio patients will be thoroughly explored to help meet the demands of increased incidence and the declining reservoir of professional personnel. The women state advisors will also discuss plans for enlisting increased volunteer support to meet the full challenge of the 1952 March of Dimes.

Mrs. Toups, well known throughout the state for her work in civic and social organizations, is a director of the New Orleans Parish Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. She is chairman and founder of the Magnolia School Auxiliary and a director of the Magnolia School for Handicapped Children. She was a member of the Governor's Planning Committee for the Midcentury White House Conference on Children and Youth in 1950, and she is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club; Orleans Club; International Council for Exceptional Children; and American Women in Radio and Television.

Mrs. Toups is chairman of American Red Cross Volunteer Services, a director and executive committee member of the New Orleans Chapter. She is chairman of the Maintenance Fund Drive, New Orleans Symphony Society; chairman, Junior Section and director of New Orleans branch of the Needlework Guild of America; and publicity chairman of the New Orleans Regional Fashion Group; New Orleans Quota Club and New Orleans Spring Fiesta Association. She serves also as secretary of the Orleans Foundation; Tuberculosis Association of New Orleans; Citizens' Advisory Health Committee; and Citizen's World War II Memorial Committee by appointment of the Mayor of New Orleans. She is an executive committee member of the Louisiana Tuberculosis Association; Community Volunteer Services and Louisiana Heart Association. Mrs. Toups is a director of all four New Orleans musical organizations: the Opera House Association; Chamber Music Society; Symphony Society; and Summer "Pops" Concerts, Inc.

Director of Women's Programs for the Mutual Network Station WNOE, Mrs. Toups received the 1950 "Woman of the Year" award from the New Orleans Federation of Women's Clubs.

Candles were lit by Master Bill Pipes, acolyte, Rayville. Her blue veil of illusion fell from a handmade Juliet cap of matching pleated blue satin. With her prayer book she carried a shower bouquet of split carnations centered with a white orchid.

Little Miss Francis wore a similar dress of pale blue organdy, hoop skirted a coronet of split pink carnations and carried a satin covered basket trimmed with bows of blue tulle and filled with rose petals.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the Childress Armstrongs in Franklin parish, for members of both families and a small company of friends. Receiving with the bride and groom were Miss Erwin, Miss Francis, Mrs. J. A. Turner mother of the groom, who wore a blue crepe model with a corsage of white carnations and Mrs. Armstrong who wore brown taffeta faille with a corsage of bronze chrysanthemums.

The living room mantel was centered with a Della Robbia arrangement of pink roses, Madonna lilies, small white and pink rain lilies with trailing rosa Montana in an antique silver tureen flanked with white candles in triple branched candelabra. Roses, white althea, blue salvia and lilies were used in other decorations throughout the house. The reception table at which Miss Raleigh Talbert, and Miss Joice Anderson presided, was covered with an Irish lace cloth. The crystal punch bowl set in a wreath of leaves and wild fern interesperced with sprays of tube-roses and rain lilies was balanced with a Victorian cut-glass lamp.

Little Miss Susan Ann Cutler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cutler of Delhi, presided at the bride's book. She wore a floor-length dress of blue taffeta and a miniature corsage of split pink carnations.

MRS. O. C. LANIER HOSTESS AT BONHOMIE CLUB MEETING

Mrs. O. C. Lanier was hostess to the Bonhomie Club at the regular October meeting. The living room was very attractively decorated in the Halloween theme.

Mrs. Hal Laymon, president, presided over the business meeting. At this time the club voted to make a donation to the Community Chest with an increase over last year. Also they were in favor of the Bernstein Park project. Mrs. George P. Forman was designated to represent the club at the Jaycee roundtable discussion. The woman of the year, endorsed by the club, was selected. Mrs. Robert Irby was unanimously elected historian for the year.

The L. F. W. C. bulletin was read by Mrs. R. B. Pilaut, at this time all members were urged to attend the convention November 8, 9, and 10, Alexandria, La.

The librarian reported several new books to the public library.

After the business meeting, Mrs. O. C. Lanier introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Lea Joiner, who gave a very inspiring and challenging talk on "Today's Homes Shape Tomorrow's World."

She said in part: "So long as there are homes to which men turn, at the close of day. . . . So long as there are homes where children are, where women stay. If love and loyalty and faith be found, across these sills, a stricken nation can recover from its greatest ills. So long as there are homes where fires burn, and there is bread. So long as there are homes where lamps are lit, and prayers are said. Although a people falter through the dark, and nations grope with God Himself back of these homes, we still can hope.

"Home builders are world builders, thus the foundation of society rests on the home. It is held together by love for God and one another. Future civilization depends upon the child, thus we must save the home. In the home life begins, grows and is shaped for eternity. The home has made more Christians than the church has made, more statesmen than the schools have made, more happiness than the world can give, more peace than all the conferences have been able to achieve."

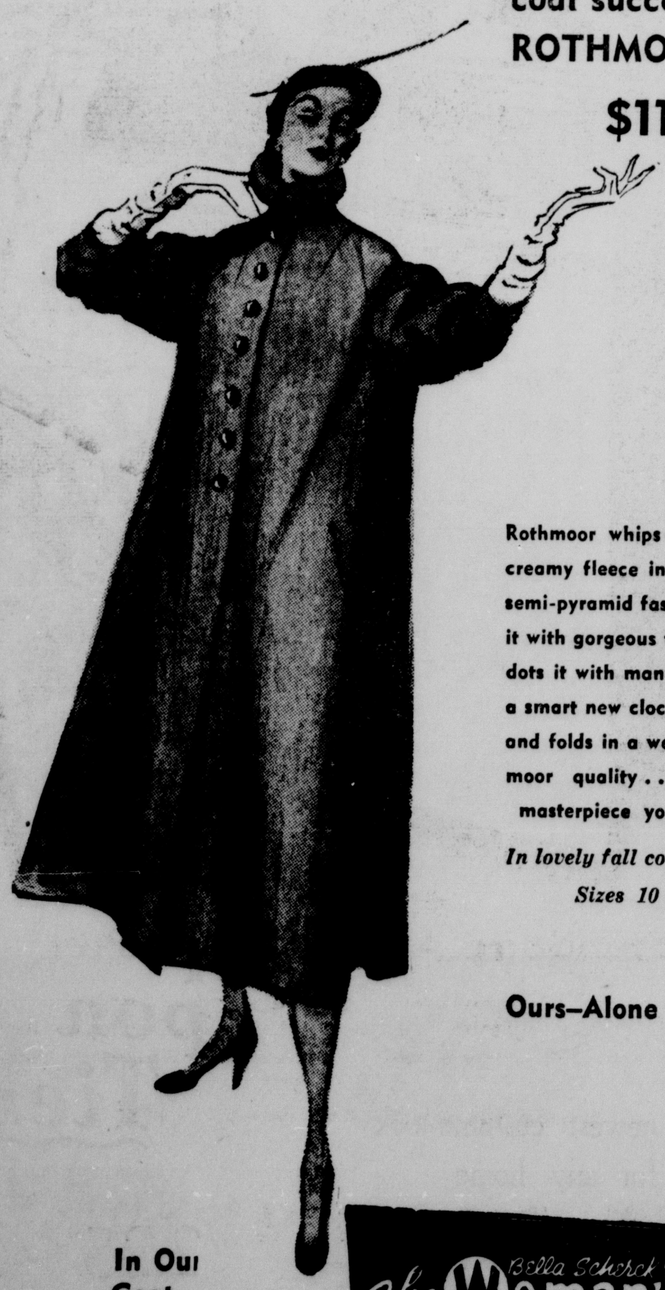

After the program those enjoying the delicious refreshments that were served by the hostess were: The guest speaker, Rev. Lea Joiner, and the following members: Mrs. Hal Laymon, Mrs. Warren Breard, Mrs. Dusty Rhodes, Mrs. George P. Forman, Mrs. A. J. McCready, Mrs. Roland Waldroup, Mrs. R. B. Pilaut, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mrs. James R. Tylor, and the hostess, Mrs. O. C. Lanier.

The next regular meeting will be held November 8 with Mrs. H. V. Collins, 1413 North 2nd St.

Miro Book Club Members Have October Meeting

Interesting Book Review On The life Of John Adams Given By Mrs. D. M. Moore

The regular Meeting of the Miro Book Club was held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. R. Tidwell with Mrs. Thos. Jett as hostess. Ten members and one guest were present.

Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, president of the club, presided. The discussion about the state convention to be held November 8 and 9 and 10 in Alexandria consumed most of the time for routine business. The delegates named are: Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, president, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, vice-president, Mrs. A. L. Peters, secretary and Mrs. Thos. Jett. The latter will attend as a state officer. Credential cards were filled out and mailed in order that Miro Book Club may have official recognition at this well planned convention.

After the agenda of the day was completed, Mrs. Mulhern turned the meeting over to Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, program chairman, who presented Mrs. D. M. Moore, Sr. as the speaker of the afternoon.

Mrs. Moore gave a review of the book: "John Adams And The American Revolution" by Mrs. Catherine Drinker Bowen. This learned and serious study of an important character, living during the very beginnings of our nation and developing along with it, was presented in a comprehensive manner. The audience listened with attention as the speaker was taking them over such a glorious epoch of our national history.

The author, Mrs. Bowen, writes of a young John Adams; she prefers to call this a portrait of him. The book opens October 1745 when John Adams was only 10 years old and closes July 1776 as he had reached his fortieth year with the Declaration of Independence newly proclaimed and war with England just begun.

The speaker, while leading members through the momentous events of that era, acquainted them with the historical hero, not as a figure of the distant past, but a human being with its qualities and its foibles, struggling with the ups and downs of life, having at his side his understanding wife, Abigail who shared with him difficulties of all kinds. As Mrs. Moore went on pointing the many sides of this magnificent portrait, history seemed to live again. Her hearers' memories of history studied in earlier years were revived while the dominating figure of John Adams came to life at the words of the reviewer.

Not only did members hear of John Adams, they actually saw him, for, after the painting in words of that imposing character, a film was shown: "The Declaration of Independence" crowning, as it were, the life just reviewed. There, on the screen, he signed that unique and momentous document, along with the fathers of our nation. This coming to life of our hero, with music and sound effect, impressed the audience and furnished those present with food for thought as turning back the pages of history while listening to the reviewer. Here was seen a great American and the constructive part he played in the formation of the American states.

The film furnished by Louisiana State University through the courtesy of Ouachita Parish Library was shown by Mr. E. L. Sanford, executive secretary of the T. B. Association. Mrs. Mulhern thanked Mr. Sanford for this courtesy. All expressed gratifude at the wonderful opportunity afforded Miro Book Club for having such educational services at their disposal.

The hostess then served a delicious salad course to Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. W. M. Greenwell, Mrs. J. W. Murphey, Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. George Temple and the guest, Mrs. Newt Purdue.

Miss Aulcy Juanita Burgess Weds James Monroe Busby, Jr.

First Baptist Church Is Scene Of Impressive Double-Ring Ceremony

A lovely wedding of the autumn season was that of Miss Aulcy Juanita Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miriam Burgess, when she became the bride of James Monroe Busby, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Busby, Sr., of West Monroe.

The marriage was solemnized Saturday, October 20 at five o'clock in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. James T. Horton officiating.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows under an arch of holly and greenery against a background of cathedral tapers and greenery. On either side of the altar were baskets of white mums. Reserved pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Florence Z. Albritton, organist, rendered several selections of nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Carey W. Kirkland as she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The traditional wedding marches marked the beginning and end of the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by Clayton L. Taylor, was radiant in her wedding gown of white satin with yoke of illusion framed with wide Chantilly lace appliqued around yoke and center of panel to waist. Seed pearls were appliqued on the lace. The hoop skirt attached to the close fitting bodice, was very full ending in the train. The long sleeves, coming to points over her wrists, were fastened with covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of Cala lillies tied with wide white satin ribbon.

Mrs. C. A. Hill was her matron of honor and was dressed in gold satin and net gown. The strapless bodice was attached to the full net skirt over gold satin. She wore a gold net stole and tiara of satin with net ruffling. Her bouquet was of bronze mums tied with dark green satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Van Clark, and Mrs. Elizabeth Atkinson. They wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor in burnt orange satin and matching net. Each carried a bouquet of bronze mums tied with dark green satin ribbon.

Linda Atkinson, flower girl, was wearing a yellow net gown over yellow taffeta featuring the ruffled yoke with full gathered skirt trimmed with rows of double ruffles. Her headband was of double ruffles and she carried a white basket trimmed with small bronze mums and filled with yellow petals of mums.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Jimmy Thames, of Crowley. Ushers were Van Clark, Damon Dunn, Calvin Folds, and Lloyd Church.

The bride's mother was wearing an aqua crepe trimmed with gold and bronze beads. She wore a white corsage of carnations. The groom's mother was wearing a teal blue crepe dress embroidered in beads. Her corsage was pink carnations.

The ceremony was followed by a reception at the bride's home. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, matron of honor, bridesmaids and parents of the bride and groom.

White mums and greenery were used throughout the receiving rooms. On the mantle was a miniature bride and groom beneath an arch formed of fern. White mums and greenery were used on the piano and buffet. The bride's table was overlaid with a handmade lace cloth and was centered with the wedding confection, that was surrounded by white mums and fern. The punch bowl placed at the opposite end of the table was also surrounded by mums and fern.

Presiding at the punch service was Mrs. Ruth Hundley, wearing a pink crepe dress. At the cake was Mrs. Carey W. Kirkland. She was wearing a dusty rose crepe. Assisting in the serving courtesies were Miss Ella Pearl Sutton, in rose satin and net, Mrs. Robert Hardin, in green net, and Miss Marion Simmons, wearing a purple velvet and orchid taffeta.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina, the bride was wearing an aqua gabardine suit with brown lizard shoes and bag. She wore a brown hat trimmed with rhinestones and brown kid gloves. Her corsage was a brown orchid. Upon their return the couple will make their home in Fort Worth, Tex.

The bride is a graduate of Neville High School, Northeast Louisiana State College and attended Louisiana State University. The groom graduated from Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Louisiana State College.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Thames, Crowley; Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Kirkland, Jackson, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Head, Norman Head and Jerlene Head of Newelton.

Girl Scout News

Today is the day for open house again at the troop camp. Wonder when we're going to be able to stop saying "the camp" and find a name for it? Sounds like a good project for the Scouts and their friends. Anyway, we hope the day is pretty and lots of families will drive out. Remember, turn right on the gravel road a half mile after leaving the Sterlington bridge. There are signs marking the entire route. See you at camp!

You girls and leaders and would-be Scouts, how about interesting Dad or big brother in joining our painting party on Saturday and Sunday, November 10 and 11? Of course, Mother can come, too, and youngsters can tag along. Sometimes Mother is as good a painter as Dad. Everybody should bring his own brush, if possible. The camp committee promises to keep the coffee pot on. Come any time Saturday and early in the afternoon Sunday.

Using the camp last Saturday were the girls of Troop 10. Under the leadership of Mrs. T. C. Rowland, Mrs. A. C. Lea and Mrs. J. W. Young, the girls went on a nature hike, cooked a one-pot meal and explored and played to their hearts content. Correction, please, the girls say it was not nearly enough of the out of doors and they want to go again and stay longer. When rain made it impossible to have coals for toasting marshmallows, the girls improvised a charcoal burner from a tin can, set it on a metal base and went merrily on toasting marshmallows for "some mores." The ten-year-old sagely remarked, "I learned that when Scouts can't do something the way they plan, there is always some other way." Smart girl, we say.

Of all the Halloween parties that must have been held, we've heard details on only one, but it must have been a hilarious one. Troop 23, fourth grade Brownies at St. Matthews, included Mothers and brothers and sisters and friends in their fun. Mrs. R. H. Hofler, leader of the troop, gives credit to the mothers who furnished refreshments and to Mrs. H. L. Otterstrom who took charge of games. The refreshment table was particularly beautiful, she tells us. Troop 23 is planning to attend Mass in uniform today, since they didn't get a chance to plan for last Sunday.

Troop 11, we hear, with leaders Mrs. Frank Smith will attend Parkview Baptist Church today.

Another group taking advantage of the pretty weather recently is new Troop 41, which went on a Saturday hike to a spot on the Natchitoches road. Learning to build fires, roasting weiners, singing, and playing games under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. Pace. Mothers of the troop held a meeting Wednesday to form a troop committee for backing the girls in their activities. With this backing we predict a good future for Troop 41.

'THE DESERT FOX' PLAYING AT TEM

James Mason Starred In Picture Of Life Of General Rommel

Adolph Hitler's fabulous 10,000 pound bullet - proof car was obtained by Twentieth Century - Fox for use in the filming of "The Desert Fox," the dramatic story of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel now playing at the Tem Theatre.

A Mercedes - Benz special, the historic vehicle is powered by a 230 horsepower engine. It has five forward speeds and clips along at 135 miles an hour.

The car is a seven - passenger touring model and is covered with armor plate and bullet-proof glass more than an inch thick.

The instrument board is so complex it looks like an airplane dash. There are two pistol cases, one up front where Der Fuhrer himself used to sit.

The vehicle has a gasoline tank holding 51 gallons of fuel necessary because the car averaged only four miles to a gallon.

Director Henry Hathaway used the machine, a collector's item, in sequences showing meetings of Rommel, portrayed by James Mason, with Hitler, played by Luther Adler.

When Clyde Sukeforth, Dodger pitching coach, played for Manchester in the New England League in 1926, Birdie Tebbetts was the team's batboy.

A LEGEND IN HIS OWN LIFETIME

James Mason is starred as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, the wily commander of the Afrika Korps who became a legend in his own lifetime, in Twentieth Century-Fox's production of "The Desert Fox," coming today to the Tem Theatre. Based on the best-selling biography by Brigadier Desmond Young, "The Desert Fox" recounts the story of Rommel from the grim days of the North African campaign to his untimey demise in Germany.

Canova Starred In 'Honeychile'

Judy Adds To Laurels In Picture At Paramount Theater Today

Back in the starvation '30s, a courageous teen-aged girl packed a couple of high C's and set out from the deep south for the Mecca of the Show World, New York City. Her name was Judy Canova but she was practically the only one who knew it.

Today, starring in Republic's Trucolor production, "Honeychile," opening today at the Paramount Theatre, she is known to millions all over the world.

That Judy couldn't have picked a worse depression period than the early '30s in which to show up on the Broadway scene didn't bother her in the least. Actors, vaudeville performers, singers, dancers and agents were standing around, idly twiddling their past credits and hoping for a call that would mean a job, but Judy waded right in selling something unique in the way of entertainment and in virtually no time had been catapulted into a featured spot on one of the top radio programs of the day, the Paul Whiteman Show.

It was partly luck, partly hard work, but mostly just Judy. She had something — Paul Whiteman recognized it—and there she was, launched on a career that was to bring her world-wide fame as a screen star, a radio songstress and the title of "Queen of the Air" for 1949.

Judy was born in Starke, Florida, and attended grade and high school here. Although her family was financially well-off, Judy literally sang her way through school—in clubs and on the radio after school hours. After that came numerous professional engagements in Florida. Encouraged by local success, Judy, her sister Anne and brother Zeke, decided to hit the big time.

Their first New York opportunity came when they were hired by a Greenwich Village night club. The Village Barn. Hillbilly songs and mountain music were just catching on at that time, and they were an instantaneous hit.

It was at that time that Whiteman heard about Judy and signed her as a comedienne. Judy found success, once started, is like a snowball going downhill. The call of the Broadway stage sounded many times before she finally answered it to star in "Ziegfeld Follies of 1937." Headline roles in the plays "Calling All Stars" and "Yokel Boy" followed.

It followed as a natural sequence that she would be prevailed upon to star in pictures and so Judy went to Hollywood in 1940.

KOREAN KID SOLDIER

With The First Marine Division in Korea —(AP)— Escorting one North Korean prisoner to the rear was like taking a 13-year-old orphan for a walk in the park and climaxing the outing with an ice-cream cone.

He was just a kid; no bigger than ten-year-old boys in your neighborhood. The mascot - sized soldier had deserted from the North Korean people's army believing that Americans would not mistreat him. He carried a Russian-type rifle two inches taller than he.

Tea And China, Crystal And Silver Showers Honor November Bride-Elect

The lovely new home of Mrs. O. R. Bridges was the setting when she and Mrs. L. M. Posey entertained at a china, crystal and silver shower honoring Miss Doris Roe, bride-elect.

Pink and red Radiance roses were used throughout the receiving rooms.

Miss Roe chose for this occasion a trousseau model of blue and black small check skirt and cape of matching material with black wool jersey blouse. Her hostesses presented her with a white glamelia corsage. Miss Roe also received a dinner plate and cup and saucer in her chosen pattern from her hostesses.

Dainty tea sandwiches, embossed cakes, nuts and mints with coffee were served by the hostesses to the folling guests: Mrs. J. G. Keller, Jr., Mrs. C. G. Alexander, Miss Betty Alpha, Miss Marion Simmons, Mrs. Robert Hardin, Mrs. Calvin Folds, Mrs. Charlie McQuinn, Mrs. H. L. Cavaness, Sr., Mrs. G. P. Walker, Mrs. George Raymond, Mrs. F. H. In the receiving line were Miss Roe, Mrs. Barney Roe, Miss Virginia Scheen and Mrs. John H. Young. Mrs. Roe, mother of the bride, was wearing a deep purple crepe dress with corsage of deep pink roses.

Mrs. Young was dressed in black crepe trimmed with aqua crystal beads and a corsage of deep pink roses. A black crepe gown complimented by a hibiscus corsage was worn by Miss Scheen and Miss Roe, for this occasion, chose an irridescent navy taffeta with a bolero jacket and rinestone buttons. Her corsage was of sweetheart roses.

Arrangements of pink roses throughout the house carried out the pink and white color scheme. In the paneled den were harmonizing fall flowers, dahlias and zinnias in russets and golds.

White candles in silver holders lit the dining room from the buffet and credenza where arrangements of white tuberoses and pink roses were places. On the polished table stood a footed silver reflector set in sprays of lacy fern with sweetheart roses and white satin bows scattered through the folliage. On the reflector was a silver bowl filled with the pink roses and tuberoses. A silver pedestal rose from the center of the bowl topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Juanita Porter and Miss Bess Sharp alternated at the silver coffee service. Assisting in passing the silver trays laden with pink and white mints, nuts, candies, and dainty tea sandwiches were Mrs. Robert Hardin, Miss Carolyn Swain, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, and Mrs. Sena Walters greeted guests through the house. Also assisting were Miss Gertrude Sandrock and Mrs. A. C. Aehle.

NORTHSIDE GROUP DISCUSSES VOTERS SERVICE ACTIVITIES

Voters service activites formed the subject of discussion at the northside discussion group meeting of the League of Women Voters, Thursday, November 1. Meeting in the home of Mrs. Dell Robinson, this group heard Mrs. Donald Simmons report on plans and activities of the Monroe League's Voters service committee. These plans are in connection with the forthcoming parish and state election, January 15.

Arousing in citizens an active interest and participation in affairs of government and providing nonpartisan, non-political accurate information about candidates and issues constitutes the work of voters service. Sending postcards to citizens who have just turned 21 and so are eligible to vote for the first time is part of the voters service activity now. December 15 is the deadline for registration.

The league has made a list of volunteers to serve as commissioners at the polls on election day, the list to be turned over to the chairman of Democratic executive committee for Ouachita parish.

Election laws will be discussed by Mr. Burt Sperry, chairman of the Democratic executive committee for Ouachita parish, at the league's general meeting, November 19. This will be an important meeting and all members are urged to attend.

The northside discussion group will hold no December meeting, but will start off the new year with a social meeting, January 10, 1952, at the home of Mrs. Don Simmons, 206 Rochelle Avenue.

THE HOME SHIFT
By Mildred Swift

Now that we've had a good rain, you can transplant those shrubs. It's still a good idea to wait for a couple of heavy frosts to move large ones or those that you will move bare rooted.

Yes—it's time to plant strawberries — call for our bulletin and look on page nine to see the correct method of placing the plant in the ground. That is very important!

When making a landscape plan now, we have to harmonize the blooming shrubs with the color of the house. No longer are houses just white, cream or red brick. With Mrs. Tolson's house trimmed in red, we used lots of berried shrubs, fortinas, red crepe myrtles and red spireas. The pink of Mrs. McDowel's house trim called for pastel pink crepe myrtles, flowering almond, pink climbing roses and abelias. Every member of the family should give their suggestions for this very important plan. Mrs. Poe's four year old son even has his favorite flower. He said "I want you to put some zinnias in our yard."

We're sorry to see Edith Tapp and family leave the Twin Cities. Edith was a capable president of the Camellia Garden Club and a member of the city extension planning committee. However, Frances Hockstetler has taken her place in both positions. She's on the job helping me find leaders for the tailoring classes.

While visiting with Alice Breard last Wednesday I noticed a ball of cotton about the size of an egg sewed on the outside of the screen door. Alice says it helps to keep the flies away from the door, therefore none get in the house. I understand numbers of people have tried the same trick. Believe it or not — it works. I asked Mr. Olsan, entomologist, why a ball of cotton can work such miracles. He says there is no reason that his department has found. We do know this — the fly doesn't have enough intelligence to do any thinking on the subject. As long as the cotton keeps the flies out, we'll not worry about a why.

Good-by — See you next Sunday in this same column.

TROPICAL TEAM

In a luxurious vacation resort on the Mexican coast, Robert Mitchum and Jane Russell develop romantic interest between episodes of melodramatic adventure. They are presented in "His Kind of Woman" opening a four-day engagement at the Paramount Wednesday.

Mitchum and Jane Russell Teamed In Exciting New Romantic Drama

'His Kind Of Woman' Opens At Paramount Next Wednesday

Giving Robert Mitchum and Jane Russell now a co-starring film, Howard Hughes presents "His Kind of Woman," a stirring romantic drama in its story fo a man battling against a sinister plot in the locale of a luxurious Mexican coast resort.

Mitchum's role is that of a gambler who is lured to the resort on a mysterious mission. Miss Russell portrays a singer in love with a noted screen star vacationing at the same spot. Despite misunderstandings the singer and the gambler are attracted to one another, but when the gambler begins to realize that the men he is dealing with plan to kill him, he seeks a way out of the trap.

How he solves his problem, with the aid of the girl and of the film celebrity whose big-game hunting talents are put to good use, leads to the exciting climax of the John Farrow production. The unusual settings designed for the film, and its tensely dramatic atmosphere, are said to offer exceptional entertainment. Vincent Price, as the screen star, Tim Holt as a sleuth, and Charles McGraw as an underworld character, are featured. John Farrow directed the picture, which was produced by Robert Sparks and written by Frank Fenton and Jack Leonard. The cast includes Marjorie Reynolds, Lesiye Banning, Jim Backus, Philip Van Zandt, John Mylong, Erno Verebes, Dan White, Richard Berggren, Stacy Harris, Carleton Young and Robert Cornthwaite.

A feature of this production is Miss Russell's vocal rendition of the new songs: "Five Little Miles from San Berdoo," and "You'll Know," which have been published and recorded.

Be On Your Toes In Any Team Match

Today's hand was played in a team match, and one South player made game at no-trump while the other South was set.

In the first room, dummy won the opening spade lead with the ten. Declarer then got to his hand with a heart in order to lead a diamond towards dummy's king.

East carefully refused to win that first diamond trick, and now declarer was a dead pigeon.

South again got to his hand with a heart in order to lead diamonds, but East was able to win the second round of diamonds and still keep the top diamond in his hand. He returned a spade to South's king, and South could do nothing about the diamonds. He had only one entry to dummy, so he could force out the top diamond but could never get back to dummy in order to cash the long diamonds.

South had to try his luck with the clubs, but the situation was hopeless. The defenders could take three clubs, two long spades, and at least one diamond. Down two.

What happened in the other room, where South made his contract? Did East take the first diamond with his ace? That would be a horrible mistake, of course.

As you can see, if East takes the first diamond, South wins the spade return, cashes the queen of diamonds, and gives up a diamond. Now dummy's long diamonds provide more than enough tricks for the contract.

That's not the way it happened, however, East defended properly, but South earned his contract. Dummy won the first trick with the ten of spades and immediately returned a low diamond.

This forced the defenders to take the first diamond trick while South still had a diamond left in his hand. South won the spade return and led his remaining diamond, forcing out East's ace. Now nothing could prevent dummy from gaining the lead with the ace of hearts in time to make the game with the long diamonds.

Q—With North - South vulnerable, the bidding has been:
West, North, East, South, 1 Heart, 1 Spade, Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades 3-2, Hearts 8-7-5, Diamonds Q-7-4, Clubs A-K-10-9-4. What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. Game is possible if your partner has maximum values for his overcall. By bidding clubs you indicate inability to raise the spades or to bid no-trump, but you do show fair strength and a good club suit. This may be all North needs to bid game in spades or no-trump.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the previous question. You, South, hold: Spades Q-7-4, Hearts 3 - 2, Diamonds K-7-5, Clubs A - K - J-9-4. What do you do?

JAPANESE TRADE JUMPS

Manila —(AP)— The Philippine Islands trade with Japan was second only to that of the United States in the first half of 1951. Experts predict the volume of trade with the former enemy nation will jump still more sharply once the Japanese peace treaty is ratified early next year.

Japan's import and export trade with the Philippines was 17 per cent of the total for the half-year, compared to 67 per cent for the United States.

A Bureau of Census and statistics report showed the total volume of foreign trade rose from $330,519,000 in the first six months of 1950 to $448,549,000 in the first half of this year.

The New York Giants have won four World championships. They beat the A's in 1905, the Yankees in 1921 and 1922 and the Senators in 1933.

NURSES WANT FAMILIES

San Francisco —(AP)— If the study recently made at the University of California is any criterion, about two-thirds of our student nurses want to get married five years after graduation and raise at least three children.

The study of 126 student nurses made by Mrs. Alice Ingmire, assistant professor of nursing, indicated the girls in white like their career, have enough dates, believe in the Bible and have no religious or racial prejudice.

COME, 'N GET IT

With The First Marine Division In Korea —(AP)— Staff Sgt. Roy L. Watson, Jr., a battalion mess sergeant from Denison, Tex., has a hint for the housewife who can't rouse her family for breakfast:

Just have a battery of Marine rockets fire at daybreak.

Leathernecks who have stood a fighting vigil all night usually would rather sleep than attend breakfast. But when Sergeant Watson learned the rockets were going to fire on a Communist - held hill at daybreak he had the foresight to scramble a full ration of eggs. Five minutes after the last roar Sergeant Watson had the chow-line going. A full complement of wide - awake marines was there, all hungry too.

ON THE BALL

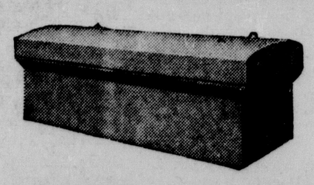

New York —(AP)— Brooklyn has a good double play combination that hasn't muffed a chance in at least 15 years.

They're two gas meter readers who together have handled flawlessly 2,218,737 chances. Charles V. Dillon has been at it 19 years. His counterpart, George P. Woll, has been calling 'em as he sees 'em for a mere 15 years but claims to have handled 85,743 more chances.

The company they work for, Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association checks up on them all the time too. Review clerks check the gas man's reading against the average billing for the particular customer's home. They still have to chalk up that first error.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes, says Ray H. Everett, secretary of social hygiene of the District of Columbia. He points out that agencies ballyhoo jobs for office girls in Washington with promises of money, glamour, adventure. In World War II this resulted in many immature, unstable girls getting into trouble.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. Yes, far more. According to a bulletin from Science Research Associates juveniles under 21 commit 6 major crimes out of 10 — one million and a half yearly. In 20 years murders by boys 10 to 16 rose 47 per cent; rape 69 per cent; assualt 71 per cent. One in three of these juveniles commits a major delinquent act before the age of eight!

Answer To Question No. 3

3. Yes, because the birth rate dropped radically from 1929 to the beginning of World War II. There was a slight baby boom in 1933; another in 1937, owing to a boost in business. Now draft boards (also colleges) find there are at least 100,000 fewer boys turning 19 than there would have been but for the depression. Babies born since 1940 will not turn 18½ or 19 for years yet, and the manpower shortage will continue for a long time, although children will overcrowd the schools.

Bible Comment

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Bible Comment For Nov. 11
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

As Moses is a type of the great liberator, so the story of the people whom he delivered, through dangers and difficulties, has become typical of general release from bondage.

That story exemplifies the obstacles that have confronted liberty-loving leaders in almost every movement from bondage to freedom. One cannot be sure that these obstacles are not the most effective barriers against liberty in our present-day world, in which despite all progress, millions of people are under the heel of dictators and oppressors.

The greatest obstacle that Moses encountered was in the people themselves. It was a fellow Jew who compelled him to escape to Midian when, seeking to effect peace between two Jews in conflict, he discovered that his killing of an Egyptian, in an earlier conflict between an Egyptian and a Jew, was known.

He had to contend with the apathy of many, and the lack of vision and actual rebelliousness of those who, when distress came upon them, failed to see the allurements of a Promised Land, and sighed for "the flesh pots of Egypt," though those flesh pots had never been theirs in their days of hard oppression and labor.

It has ever been so, and it is so today. It is a profound mistake to believe that all men are inherently devoted to freedom or they are villing to pay the price of its attainment. . . . And it is equally a mistake to assume that all who love liberty for themselves are willing, with notable exceptions, to undergo sacrifices and labors for the attainment of similar liberty by others.

As a boy, born within the British Empire I thrilled to the well-known refrain:

"Rule Britannia, Britannia rules the waves,
And Britons never, never will be slaves."

That is true of a typical, stout-hearted Briton, as it is true of their prototypes in other democracies. But until comparatively recent times millions of Britons were in actual bondage. Perhaps you, like myself, visited the criminal ship, "Success," when it lay in the Potomac at Washington.

This was the ship in which the so - called "Tolpuddle Martyrs" were sent in cells and chains as criminals to Australia — eight agricultural laborers, whose only "crime" was that they had combined to seek an extra shilling to their small weekly wage. That was in 1834. It is against that background that one must understand the rise to power of the Labor government in England, as well as some of its extreme and experimental measures.

On this side of the Atlantic at the present hour a great, menacing danger to freedom, if not the greatest, is from gangsterdom, and the political corruption that strengthens it. Yet the public is so little aroused that legislators who can vote vast sums against dangers from without are at this moment of writing cutting off funds for the greatest exposure of crime and corruption ever attempted.

How much do we really love freedom?

ARE YOU A CHRISTIAN?

The Argument Is Presented:

Everyone must be a Christian if he or she is to be saved unto eternal life (see John 3: 16). "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him" (John 3: 36). "He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life" (1 John 5: 12). There is no other way, and, necessarily, "he that believeth not shall be damned" (Mark 16: 16). He is condemned already" (John 3: 18), and only awaits the day of execution. Trifle with health if you will, even be careless as to the safety of yourself and your loved ones, but fail not to trust him who says, "I give unto them eternal life" (John 10: 28).

The Way Is Plain

1. Turn from sin.—Declare war against sin, and ojin Jesus and Christians in the battle for truth. Step over on God's side of the sin question. That is "repentance toward God" (Acts 20:21).

2. Turn to Jesus.—Believe in him as your own personal Redeemer. Receive him as Saviour (see John 1: 12), and commit yourself to him for time and eternity (see 2 Tim. 1:12).

3. Begin to obey.—Confess him before men (see Rom. 10:9). Follow him (see Rom. 6: 4). Join him in giving the message of salvation to every creature (see Matt. 28: 19-20).

EDUCATION IS THEME OF WEEK

Claiborne School Will Have Open House Nov. 11; Public Invited

American Education Week will be observed by the faculty, student body and the P.-T. A. at the Claiborne school on the Ruston road, Nov. 11 from 3:00 to 5:00 p. m. with open house. The public is invited to come out and inspect the new school plant.

This visitation gives teachers, school principals, and other school administrators ample opportunity to interpret the objectives, programs, and the needs of the modern schools to the people of a community, and to encourage greater participation by the parents, laymen's groups, and the general public in developing plans, and procedures for desirable improvements in our school systems of public education. A unique element in American education is its close relation to the community.

Widespread attention has been focused upon the public schools in recent months due to unfair criticism directed against our educational methods. We should seek to find and expose these enemies whose intention is to cause us to lose faith in this most completely democratic institution we now have. Care should be taken not to confuse honest, constructive criticism designed to improve the schools with attacks to undermine them.

Lyle W. Ashby, assistant secretary for professional relations in the N. E. A. of the United States says, "What can the parents and other citizens do about present and potential attacks on our public schools?

1. Keep in touch with community sentiment.

2. Keep in touch with your school officials and inform them if you hear destructive criticisms or unfounded rumors.

3. Ask whoever you hear ridiculing the schools how long it has been since he last visited a school.

4. Alert your fellow townspeople through your P. - T. A. and other community organizations.

5. Elect able members to your board of education. Stand up for your public schools. Study their needs. Help improve them. They are now, as they have been in the past, the main bulwark of our democracy. In them 30 million children and young people are being prepared for the unknown world of tomorrow."

Mrs. Leon Owens, P.-T. A. hospitality chairman, has announced the names of the following ladies who will assist with the courtesies of the day. Mrs. Bernie Emery, Mrs. R. C. Thrasher, Mrs. Grady Haynes Mrs. Fred Riser, Miss Bill Watson, Mrs. Marie Wallace, Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, Mrs. H. B. Ramsey, Mrs. Clay Wilson, Mrs. J. D. Purvis, Mrs. Irvin Bryan, Mrs. William Norris, Mrs. D. Dennig, Mrs. A. Karnes, Mrs. Orie Hatten.

PETTICOAT DEMOLITION

With The First Marine Division In Korea —(AP)— A young North Korean girl, who admitted mining several roads behind the marine lines on the east-central front, was captured by Korean marines in a hut containing several cases of dynamite.

A South Korean captain became suspicious of her well-fed appearance and clean clothing in a land where rags and starvation are the rule. A search of the hut revealed the dynamite and she confessed being a trained Communist demolition agent.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking...without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme...because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women...smooths out lines and wrinkles...firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

MEANWHILE

MR. FITCH, WHOEVER THOUGHT OF THROWING NAPALM INTO AN ELECTRIC FAN WAS A GENIUS!

MR. BUCKET, WHOEVER THOUGHT OF SENDING THE 'COPTER WITH THE FLAME THROWER TO OUR RESCUE WAS THE REAL GENIUS!

NOW SUKI SUSIE AND HER LITTLE FRIENDS CAN PRACTICE DIGGING TUNNELS OUT OF THAT IRON PAGODA ON THE GINZA! ME, I'M FOR GETTING BACK INTO THE OZONE — THIS NAVAL WARFARE IS DANGEROUS!

WHILE ALL THIS HAS BEEN GOING ON, A CONFERENCE HAS BEEN IN PROGRESS IN THE OFFICE OF A CERTAIN PROFESSOR AT MAUMEE UNIVERSITY, BACK IN THE UNITED STATES..

OUR WRIGHT-PATTERSON A.F. BASE LABORATORY EXPERTS SAY YOU'VE HIT ON A GOOD THING! THEY WANT TO TEST IT UNDER POTENTIAL COMBAT AREA CONDITIONS...

I AM NOT FULLY SATISFIED! — GIVE ME A LITTLE MORE TIME AND I THINK I CAN MAKE IT EVEN BETTER, MAJOR!

YOU MEAN- WE'RE FREE TO GO?

YES, THE ROPE PEOPLE HAVE LIVED UP TO THEIR PROMISE. THEY'LL ESCORT YOU TO THE JUNGLE'S EDGE.

THE PHANTOM WINS HIS BATTLE TO PROVE TO THE CANNIBALS THAT HE IS THE PHANTOM!

YOU DID ALL THE FEATS THAT MADE US SURE YOU COULD BE NONE OTHER!

"YOU SHOWED COURAGE IN CAPTURING THE WILD ELEPHANT AND CUNNING IN MOVING THE GREAT BOULDER...

"YOU SHOWED STRENGTH IN BATTLING THE TIGER, AND WISDOM IN ESCAPING OUR WARRIORS FROM DAWN TO SUNSET"...

"BUT IN THE BATTLE TO THE DEATH WITH THE JUNGLE CHAMPION, WHEN YOU COULD HAVE KILLED HIM, BUT SPARED HIS LIFE"....

FLASH GORDON ... by Mac Raboy and Don Moore

THE WILY QUEEN SEEMS TO ACCEPT FLASH'S EXPLANATION AND ORDERS A BANQUET FOR THE VISITORS. AS THEY PARTAKE OF THE LUSCIOUS MARTIAN FOOD, MENTA QUESTIONS FLASH ABOUT THE EARTH'S SCIENCE AND WEAPONS. SUDDENLY FLASH NOTICES AN ODD MACHINE. AS HE PICKS IT UP, HE REALIZES IT IS A THOUGHT-WAVE RECORDER.

ENRAGED THAT FLASH SEES THROUGH HER PLAN TO GAIN MORE INFORMATION THAN HE IS WILLING TO GIVE, THE QUEEN ORDERS THAT THE EARTH PEOPLE BE SEIZED AS SLAVES. SNATCHING A KNIFE FROM MENTA'S BELT, FLASH WARNS: "ONE MOVE AND YOU DIE WITH US!"

Copr. 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

MENTA PRETENDS HER THREAT WAS ONLY A ROYAL WHIM. "YOU ARE TOO BRAVE TO BE A SLAVE, EARTHMAN," SHE SAYS. "LET US BE FRIENDS." TURNING TO AN ATTENDANT, MENTA COMMANDS: "SEE THAT OUR GUESTS HAVE THE BEST QUARTERS IN THE PALACE!" BIDDING DALE GOOD-NIGHT, FLASH WHISPERS, "BE ON GUARD!"

IN THE SMALL HOURS OF THE NIGHT A MARTIAN SLIPS INTO FLASH'S ROOM AND ATTEMPTS TO FASTEN A STRANGE HELMET ON THE SLEEPING EARTHMAN'S HEAD. ONCE ON, THE HELMET WILL BIND ITS WEARER TO SLAVERY. BUT AT THE TOUCH OF METAL FLASH AWAKENS AND SPRINGS INTO ACTION!
